Leadership and Guidance
Courtesy of the Student Council

This year the Student Council brought together class presidents, representatives, council officers, and students to work on a Reader's Digest Subscription Drive. The profits from this successful drive were divided between classes and clubs, as a financial boost. A canned goods drive (below right) held before Christmas vacation was a rousing success for the Alexander Children's Home.

One of the Council's major concerns this year has been the formation of an effective Honor Code at CLS.

Club Coordination

The Interclub Council was formed during the 1974-1975 school year in order that it may serve as the coordinator and advisor of club and class-sponsored activities. In addition to these responsibilities, the council has begun to organize activities and service projects with several clubs or classes working together as a team.

The Interclub Council sponsored the reception after the Christmas Festival of Lights concert and participated at May Day Play Day through its many club booths. The council, headed by second vice-president Beth Schofield, aims toward becoming an effective coordinator, advisor, and sponsor of club and class projects.

"Tales of Terror," Bright Christmas Spark NHS

The Charlotte Latin School chapter of the National Honor Society is an academic society of highest probity. Criteria for membership includes the possession of a certain grade point average and a demonstration in the areas of character, leadership, service, and scholarship. Twice annually, in the fall and in the spring, Juniors and Seniors meeting the requirements are inducted into the society.

Unlike many chapters of the National Honor Society, the CLS chapter sponsors several service projects each year. Just before fall exams, they presented "Tales of Terror," a collection of spine-tingling horror movies. The money raised by the movie was used to buy Christmas presents and Christmas dinner for a needy family. The members agreed that their Christmas was made brighter by brightening this family's Christmas.

Latin's Got Junior NHS, Too!

The National Junior Honor Society's membership like that of the National Honor Society, is based upon scholarship, character, service, and leadership. The CLS chapter held a Christmas party that featured foods from different countries. The members take turns tutoring students in the Lower School. The annual inductions are held in the spring.

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League, often referred to as the Latin Club, is the CLS chapter of the American Classical League. The club is an organization of junior and senior high school students formed to encourage appreciation and knowledge of ancient Greece and Rome. The Junior Classical League, under the direction of Mrs. Hamilton, enters language competitions and contributes to the state Junior Classical League newspaper. (Right) Mrs. Hamilton takes a lollipop break before the club meeting.

An Honor Society for Drama Students

The International Thespian Society, an honor society for dramatic students, is in its first year of organization at Latin. The club, troupe 539, was established under Mr. Elmore. The Thespians are dedicated to promoting the performing arts at Latin. This year they helped with the fall production, THE NIGHT IS MY ENEMY, and the spring musical, LITTLE MARY SUNSHINE.

(Right) Mr. Elmore observes several of the Thespians during the production of THE NIGHT IS MY ENEMY. (Below Right) Ann Biswell, as Augusta Garbey, lends Ann McAlister, Roane Shepperly, some helpful advice in the play THE NIGHT IS MY ENEMY.

Latin Tries French Culture

Since the French Club had such a large turnout this year, three smaller clubs were formed: Les Faucons, Les Disciples Fidèles de la France, and Les Amis l'Hexagon. The sponsors for these clubs were the French teachers: Mr. Myers, Mrs. Webb, and Mrs. Brown. Although each club met separately, elected its own officers, and held separate activities, they joined together in the spring for International Week. The French clubs are always popular at May Day Play Day when they serve those delicious crêpes!

Les Cercles Français

Le Cercle Français avait de bon succès cette année. L'intérét des étudiants était si intense qu'on a dû former trois groupes individuels: Les Faucons, Les Disciples Fideles de la France, and Les Amis l'Hexagon. M. Myers et, Mesdames Browns et Webb se sont chargés du opération des groupes. Chaque groupe s'est réuni, a élu ses dirigeants, et a organisé ses propres activités. Tous les trois ont travaillé ensemble pour assurer le succès de la trois soirée internationale qui s'est déroulée au mois de mars. En plus, en tenant compte de la belle traditory La Crêperte Bretonne a connu un grand succès le premier mai.

A Visit to Spain

Spanish Club meetings consisted of Spanish-centered activities designed to promote interest in the Spanish language and culture. The Senior Spanish Club, with the help of Mrs. Skidmore, began the year with an enchilada party and a taco party for its members. Both clubs held Christmas parties in which pinatas were broken, spilling candy everywhere.

La Alianza Española
El Club le Español

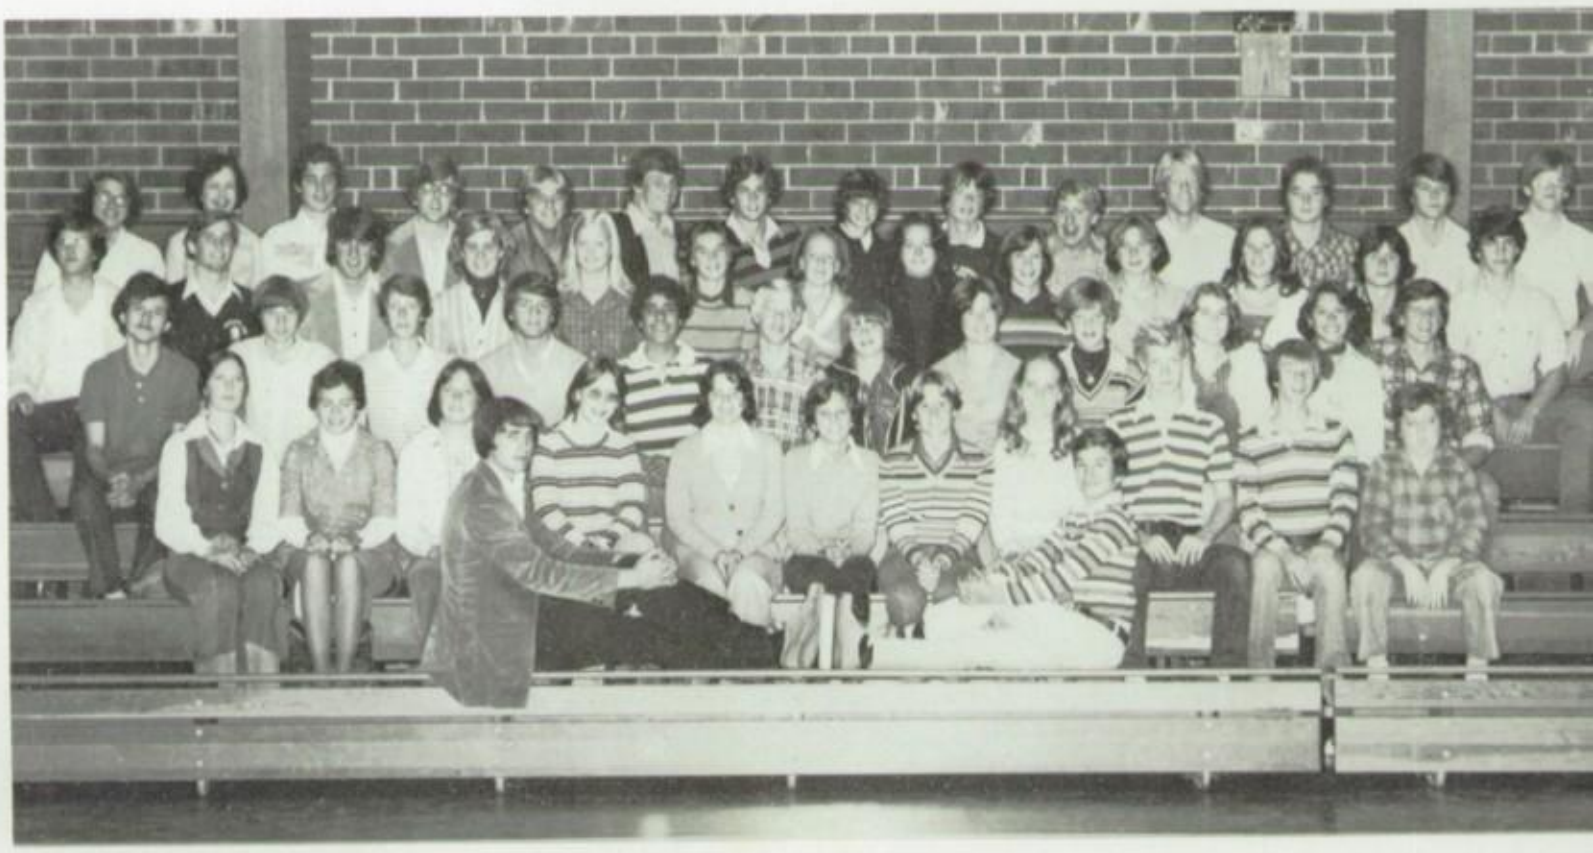
Las juntas del club de Espanol consistían de actividads españolas diseñadas a promocionar interes in la cultura y la lengua española. El club mayor, con la ayuda de Senora Skidmore emperzó con una fiesta de tacos y enchiladas. Su fiesta de Navidad fue muy buena con una piñata bastante bonita. Rompieron la penata y los dulces se derramaron.

The Whiz Kids

The Junior Math Club, under the supervision of Mrs. Baesel, learned a great deal concerning the use of the school computer. The members played math-related games during some of their meetings.

The members of Mu Alpha Theta, an honorary math club, are comprised of students in grades 10-12. Each student must qualify for membership by having an average math grade equivalent to a "B." This year Mu Alpha Theta divided into two groups because of the size of the entire club; but when guest speakers appeared and field trips took place, the club formed into a single unit.

MAΘ



Young Frankensteins

The Science Club, advised by Mrs. Matthews, was formed to promote an interest in science. The club gave a Nature Encyclopedia to the CLS library in memory of Peter Fincher. In previous years they have sponsored an ecology drive, and this year their plans included several speakers, service projects, donating an animal to the North Carolina Zoo, and taking a field trip to the zoo.

Blast Off!

The aeronautics club, or Rocket Club, studied the principles of flight at their meetings. This knowledge enabled them to build and perfect their own model rockets. Under the supervision of Mr. Starner, the club launched rockets on the football and soccer fields. The club planned an aeronautics show at May Day Play Day.

Σ Club

The Sigma Club has worked diligently to fulfill the goals that it set for the 1976-1977 school year. During the first hectic days of orientation, club members aided Dr. Collins in the distribution of books. Later, members helped in reorganizing the Book Storage Room. On College Day, Sigma Club members busily showed college representatives around, set up the tables and chairs, and helped anyone who was lost. The Sigma Club ended the year with their annual car wash.

Keywanettes and Civinettes Seek to Serve

The Keywanettes, a girls' service club chartered by the Kiwanis Club, sponsored several projects during the 1976-1977 school year. Their projects provided services for CLS and the community. When Charlotte's Cerebral Palsy Association was faced with a shortage of funds, the Keywanettes helped raise money by donating junk and baked goods to the association's Christmas sale at the Charlottetown Mall. In January the girls started a program called "Share-A-Trip" through the Volunteer Action Center. Twice monthly, the girls entertained under-privileged children. Thinking ahead of the beauty of spring, the Keywanettes planted bulbs on the Latin campus. During the basketball season, the girls sold programs at the games for the Boosters' Club. Under the guidance of Mrs. Rust, the Keywanettes tried to pitch in and help whenever they were needed.

Civinettes is a girls' service club designed to encourage participation in worthwhile projects, while stimulating fellowship within the club.

Civinettes are individuals with unique ideas and goals. This year the girls won first place for having the best room at the Charlotte Nature Museum's Haunted House.

Services Provided by Key and Interact Clubs

. . . With a Touch of Creativity

Interact, with the help of their advisor Mr. Correll (Opposite: Top Left) undertook many service projects. The club provided funds for the foreign exchange student and honorary member Bernard Vandenberge. They participated in projects promoting school spirit. Interact members enjoyed weekly Rotary Club luncheons. One of the year's highlights was their January ski trip to the N.C. mountains.

The Key Club, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, cut down and decorated the tremendous Christmas tree this year for CLS. They set the tree up on the handball patio next to Founder's Hall. The club worked hard to promote school spirit. (Left) David Sheridan explains the majorette expertise involved in such follies: he picked this up at summer camp. (Bottom Left) Joe Townsend, an Interact member, tries to claim credit for decorating the Key Club Christmas tree. (Bottom Right) The Key Club "Foxettes" strut seductively down the football field during half-time.

They're Coming to Take Us Away

Take over sixty students, three slightly deranged faculty members, and the chaos of a Friday afternoon football game. Submit them to the harsh discipline of a highly-organized practice. The result - the Charlotte Latin Stumbling, Falling, Tripping, Sprawling, Jaywalking, Fly-By-Night Band and Floor Show. So amazing . . . so unbelievable . . . Preforming intricate formations once only dreamed of . . . Musically talented? The melodious strains of their kuzoos should be unheard of . . .

Nonetheless, the CLS Marching Band and Floor Show entertained at the final home football game. Their debut was a stupendous success! Their formations never looked better. An unexpected hush filled the air as the band stepped forth in their sparkling new uniforms. The crowd cheered at the band's refreshing rendition of "The Can-Can Song." It was, indeed, a warm reception and as much as demanded the Band's reappearance during basketball season. 'Twas the stuff dreams were made of . . . the Charlotte Coliseum . . . The Rose Bowl.

As the halftime crowd fled in search of safer grounds, concerned parent's sentiments were overhead: "Those people need a long vacation, in a nice room . . . with padded walls."

PRECISION?!

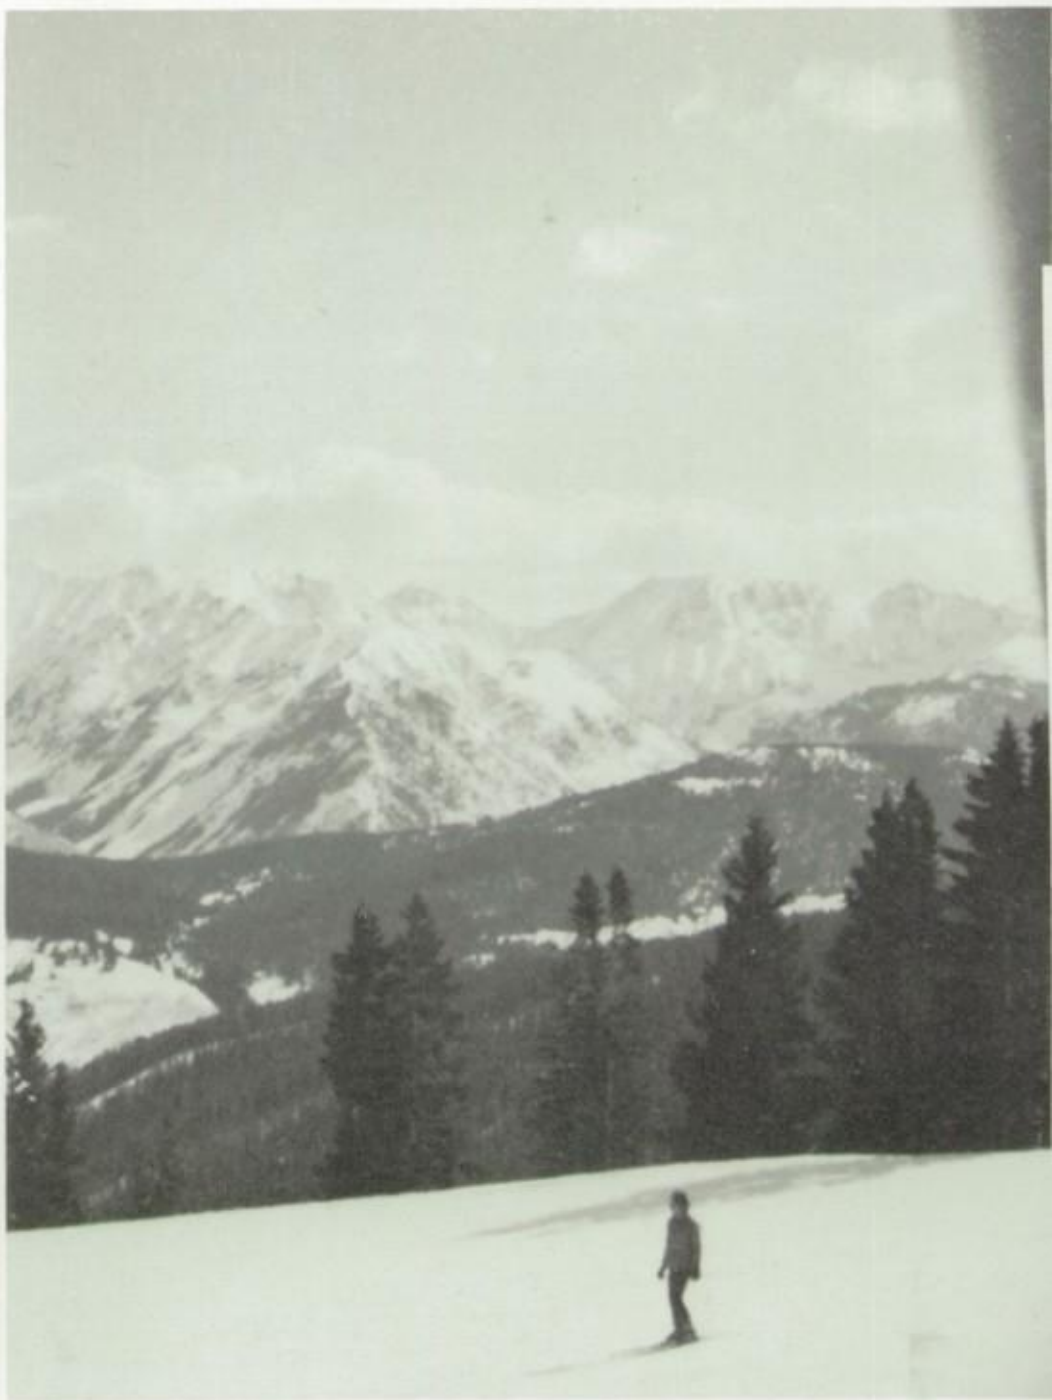
Pep Clubs = Spirit, Spirit, and More Spirit

The Pep Clubs were formed to promote school spirit and participation in athletic events. The clubs' purpose is to aid the cheerleaders and administration in the execution of school activities. Their blue derbies have become a symbol of spirit at CLS games.

Spirit Week, January 17-21 supported by the Pep Clubs, was an eventful week for students. The "Five Days of Spirit Week" gave students a chance to be even more spirited than usual. Monday, Poster Day, gave clubs and classes the opportunity to compete in a poster contest. First place was awarded to the Sophomore Class. Tuesday, Laverne and Fonzie Day, allowed students to dress and return to the '50's. Students came to school clothed in pleated skirts, letter sweaters, bobbie socks and saddle shoes. Seniors Mariah Pitt and Meg Hoey even wore roller skates to class. The first place winners were Shep Robinson, an eighth grader dressed as Laverne, and Valerie Bullington, a Senior dressed as Fonzie. Wednesday was Faculty Day. Members of the faculty dressed in their old school attire. Mr. Barres snatched first place. For added entertainment they sponsored a "disco" in the gym. Thursday, Graffitti Day, allowed each class to decorate something on campus. The Seniors, having the first priority, won first place for their graffitti in the gym. Friday, the final day, brought a Pep Rally which featured a beauty contest for our "beasts," the CLS men.

THINK SNOW!



Getting Back to Nature

The Nature Trail Club is comprised of seventh and eighth grade boys, under the direction of Mr. Starner. The Nature Trail Club completed the trail that is located between the football field and Providence Road. The boys found flora, usually found at 4,000 feet, on the Nature Trail. A waterfall was also discovered. It is now fondly referred to as "Fox's Falls."

The Backpacking Club is an organization of adventuresome girls, advised by Mrs. Stockton. In the fall, the girls spent two days hiking from Montreat to Mt. Mitchell. They enjoyed camping and hiking in the beautiful outdoors even though it was sometimes tiresome.

This year the CLS Ski Club membership was bigger than ever. To accommodate this increase, two ski clubs were formed: the mini ski bunnies of grades 7-9 and the Senior Ski Club comprised of the skiing jet-setters of the 10-12 graders. Lack of snow cancelled a pre-Christmas ski trip, but spirits were revived by the excellent ski conditions that accompanied a Saturday night trip to Sugar Mountain early in January. An evening of non-stop skiing brought a tired, bleary-eyed group home at 2:00 Sunday morning.

Spring vacation found the more dedicated skiers in Vail, Colorado while a small bunch of the hot doggers were last seen schussing down the wide expanses of Kitzbühel, Austria.

Say Cheese!

On rainy days (and sunny ones) . . . we do arts and . . .

The Seventh and Eighth Grade Craft Club is made up of seventh and eighth grade students who are interested in arts and crafts. This year the club made shrink art jewelry and keychains for May Day Play Day.

The Art Club, like many other clubs, got a late start this year due to a number of assemblies at the beginning of the year. The Art Club participated in the pole painting in Founders' Hall.

They also plan to paint one or more of the walls in the boys' locker room.

The Photography Club is a group of shutter bugs under the supervision of Mr. Browne. The members learn the different parts of the camera and process and develop their own film. (Top Left) Ed Goode loads his camera for another day of EYRY photos.

One No Trump? Checkmate!

The purpose of the Chess and Bridge Clubs at Charlotte Latin School is to promote the learning and enjoyment of chess and bridge. The clubs sponsor tournaments for the club members, school students, and students in the community.

The Senior Handball Club, formed this year, has become extremely popular. Whenever there is a free moment, you can find the members of this club on the handball patio.

The Hawk Eye

Volume 6, Number 2 | Charlotte Latin School | Charlotte, North Carolina | 17 December 19

The HAWK EYE staff is one of the most productive organizations on the Latin campus and was the Club of the Year in 1976 for this reason. It is responsible for publishing the monthly school newspaper but undertakes other projects during the year: the mock presidential election held in the fall re-elected President Ford, and the Literary-Arts Magazine featuring student writings, artwork, and photographs was published in the spring.

Living up to the cantons of the press can be a learning experience for the twenty-six members of the staff. These include accepting a responsibility to the readers to publish the truth - sincerely, impartially, and accurately - and fighting for the right to do so.

At the beginning of the year, the HAWK EYE underwent several changes. A new advisor, Mrs. Gowing, brought fresh new ideas on high school journalism and a crash course during the first term. Seeing the need to go from offset to letterpress, Mrs. Gowing sought a new printer. The HAWK EYE also joined the Columbia Journalistic Association, which critiques and sponsors a competition for high school newspapers.

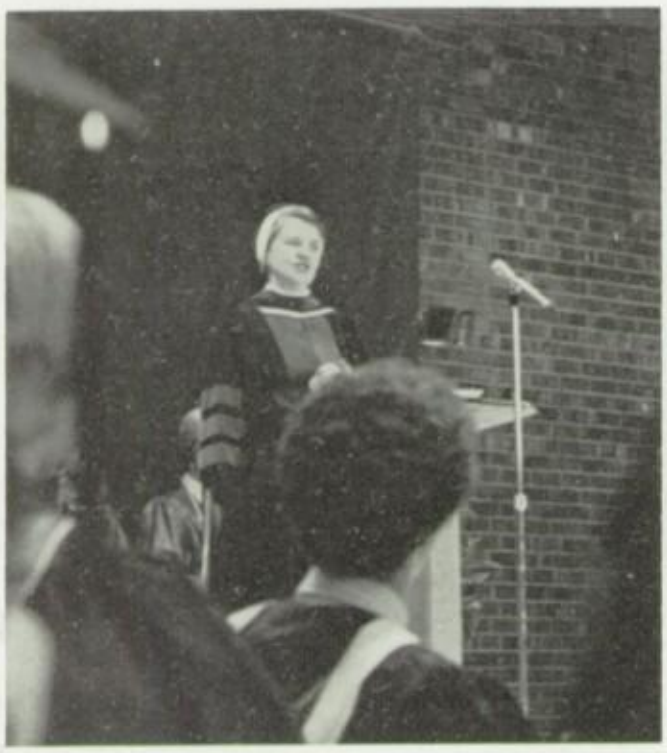
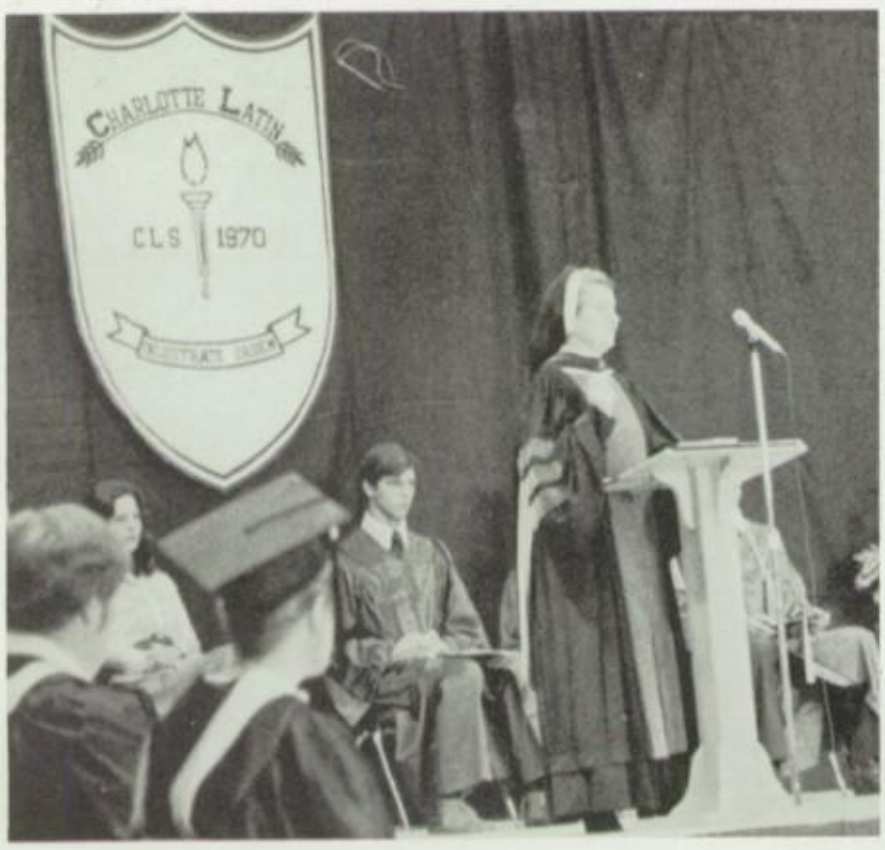
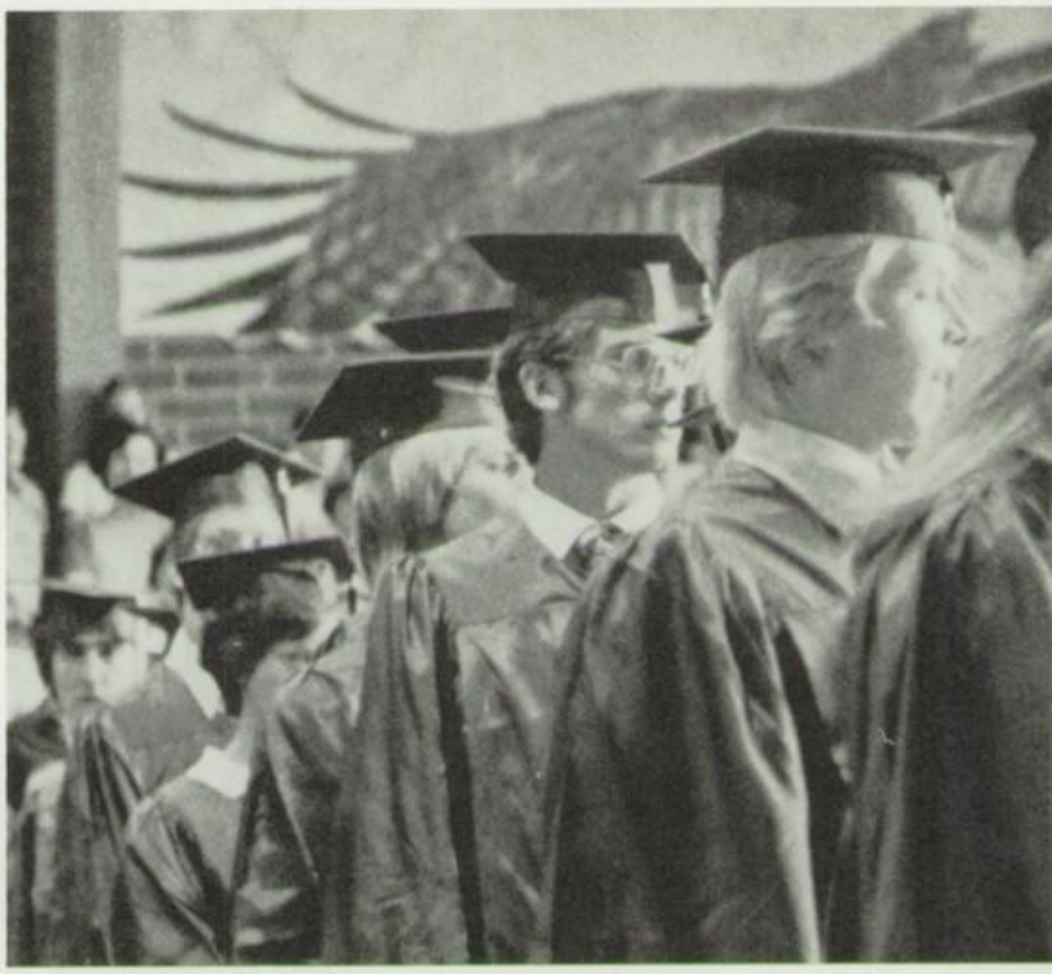
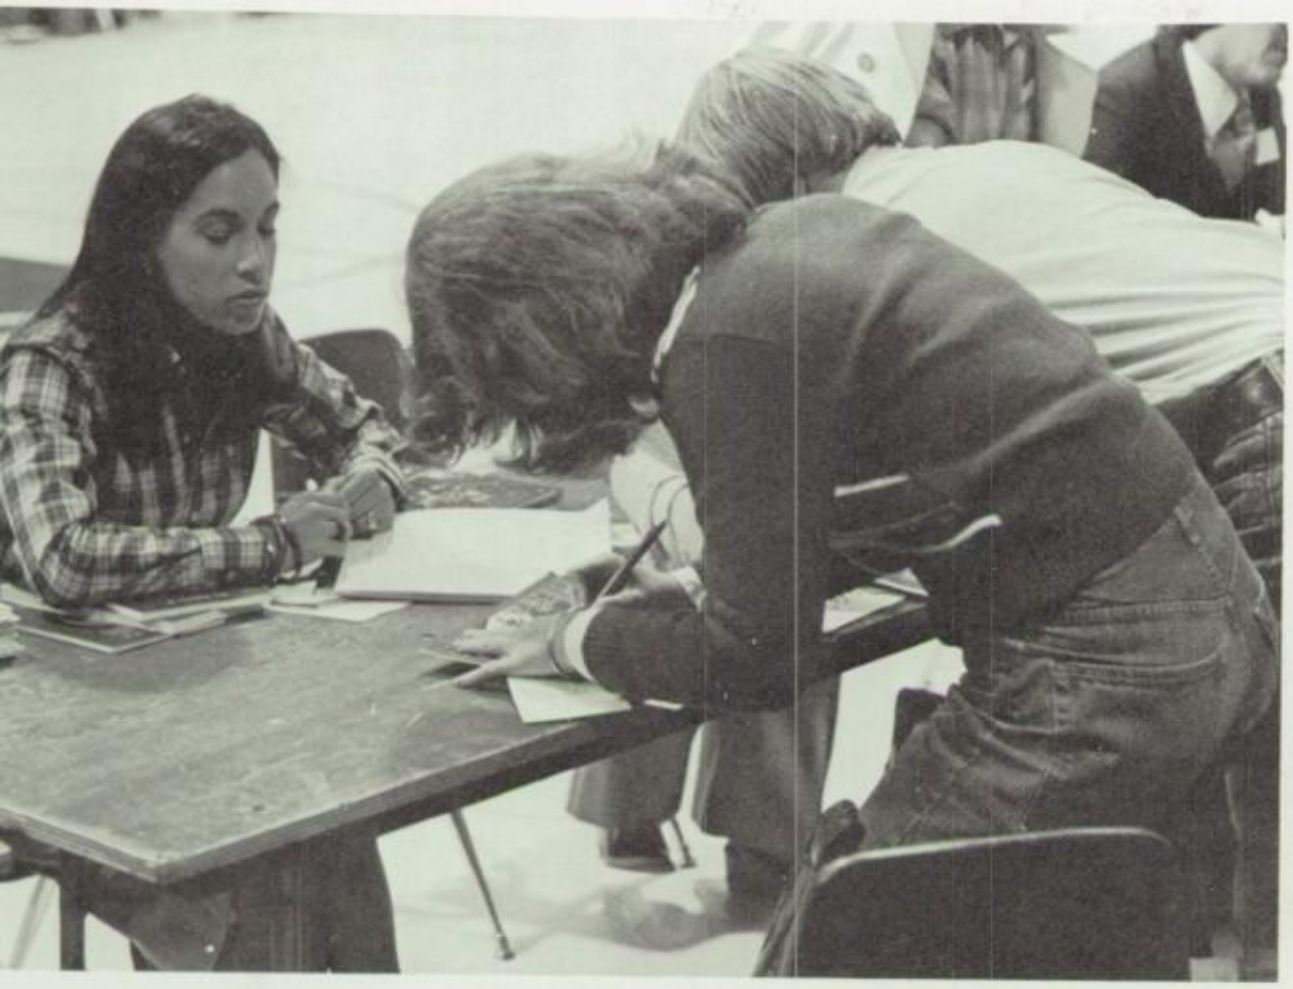
Convocation Inspires Class of 1977

On September 10, the Senior class participated in the Second Annual Convocation Exercises at Charlotte Latin. Dr. Mary Thomas Burke, CLS Consultant and Director of the Department of Human Development at UNCC, was honored as the guest speaker for the event. Following the convocation, a luncheon was held at Slug's Choice for the speaker, advisors, and the Class of 1977.



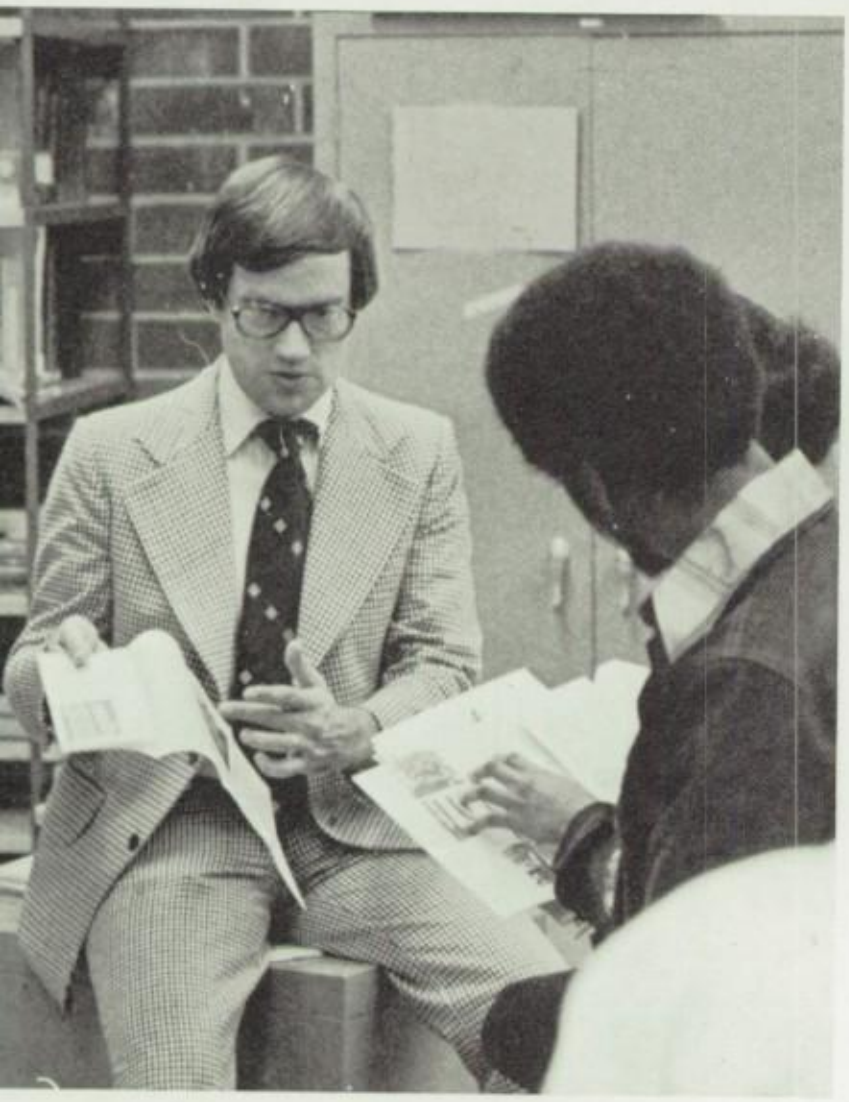






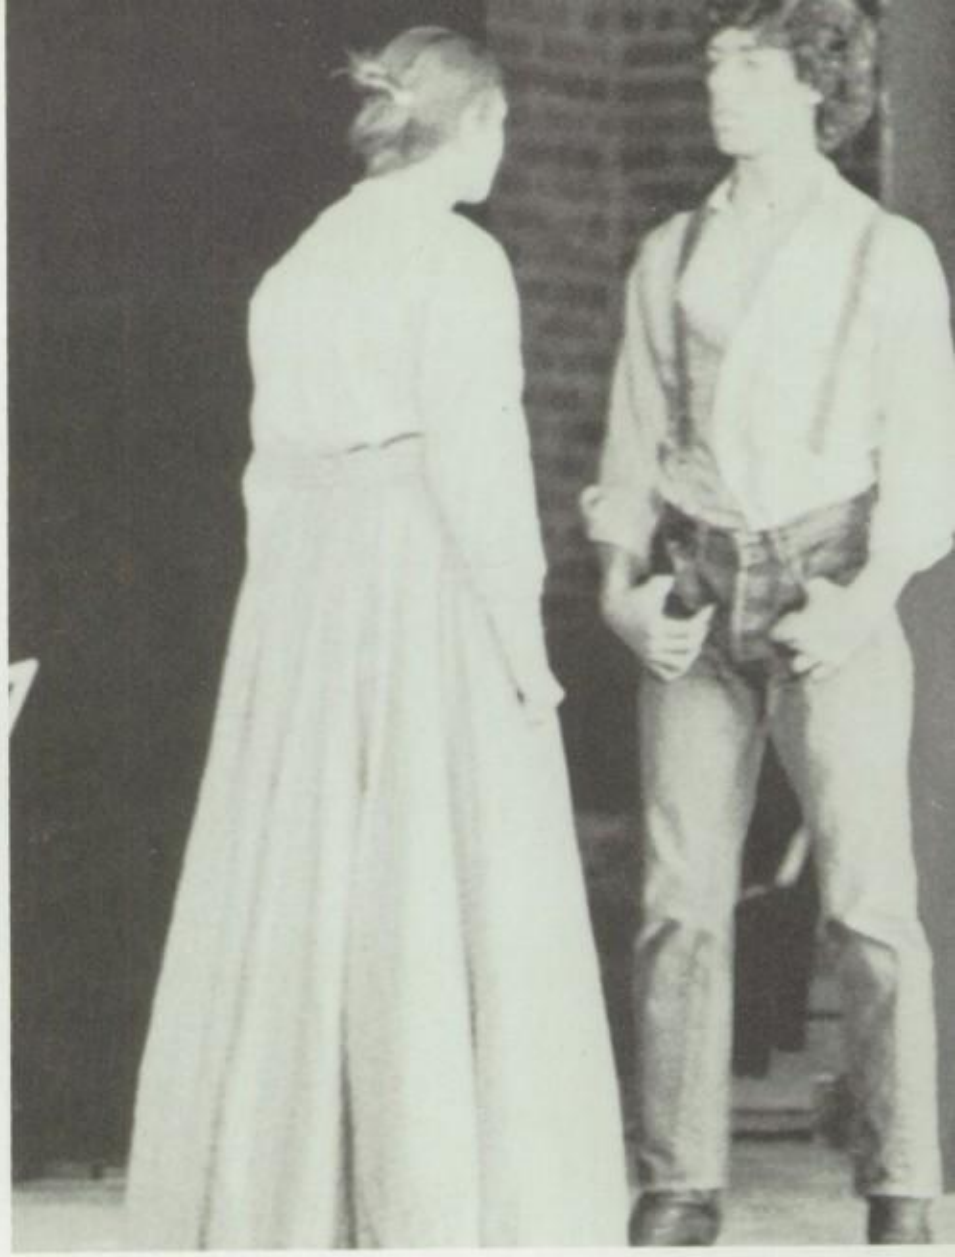
Decisions, Decisions!

Classes ended at 12:30 on October 27, and the preparations began for College Day. Students from private schools in the Charlotte area took advantage of the opportunity to speak with the college representatives. Over 100 colleges were represented and enjoyed visiting the CLS campus.



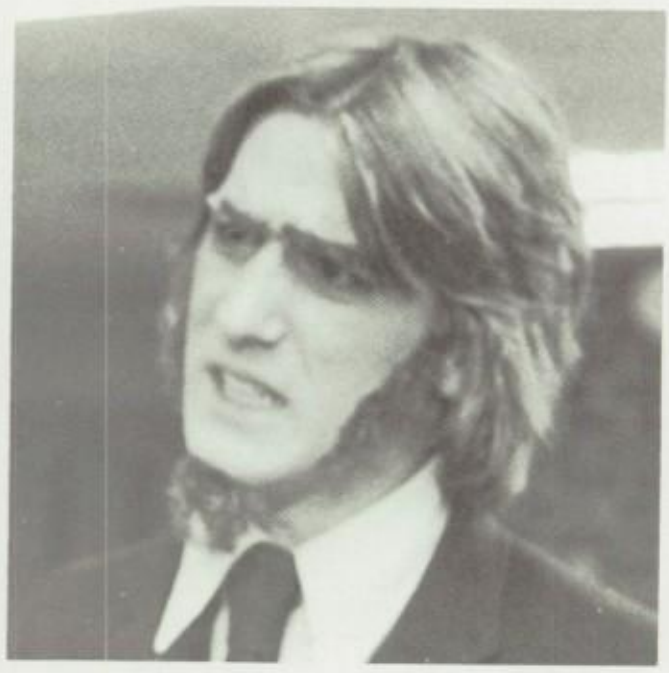
"Fantasy Roulette"

On November 2, students from the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem, N.C. visited CLS and presented skits involving many aspects of the fine arts. Among the highlights were a Brazilian folk song (Bottom Right) and an all-cast finale (Below Right). As the Fine Art Department continues to grow, CLS students are exposed to more and more opportunities.



Thespian Drama Highlights Fall Activities

The Charlotte Latin Drama Department presented "The Night Is My Enemy" by Fred Carmichael, on November 11th, 12th, and 13th. The play was directed by Mr. Thomas F. Elmore and the cast consisted of 10 of his drama students. The fall production was a splendid success.



And a One, and a Two, and a . . .

Under the direction of Mr. George Eison, the Charlotte Latin Performing Chorus has grown in both membership and enthusiasm. The first formal performance was in November for the Parent's Council. The Chorus was invited to Providence Square Shopping Center to carol for customers over the holidays. On December 16, the Chorus presented its first annual Christmas concert at Providence Baptist Church. On the 17th the repertoire was repeated for the student body and faculty. The first Annual Spring Concert was held May 17.

Moms and Dads Help Out

The Parents' Council, lead by Mrs. Robert D. Sellers (Ann), had its first meeting on November 1st at 8:00 p.m. Business for the 1976-1977 school year was discussed and the parents enjoyed listening to the Chorus' performance. May Day Play Day VII was held May 7th and proved to be a great success; our thanks to the Parents' Council!

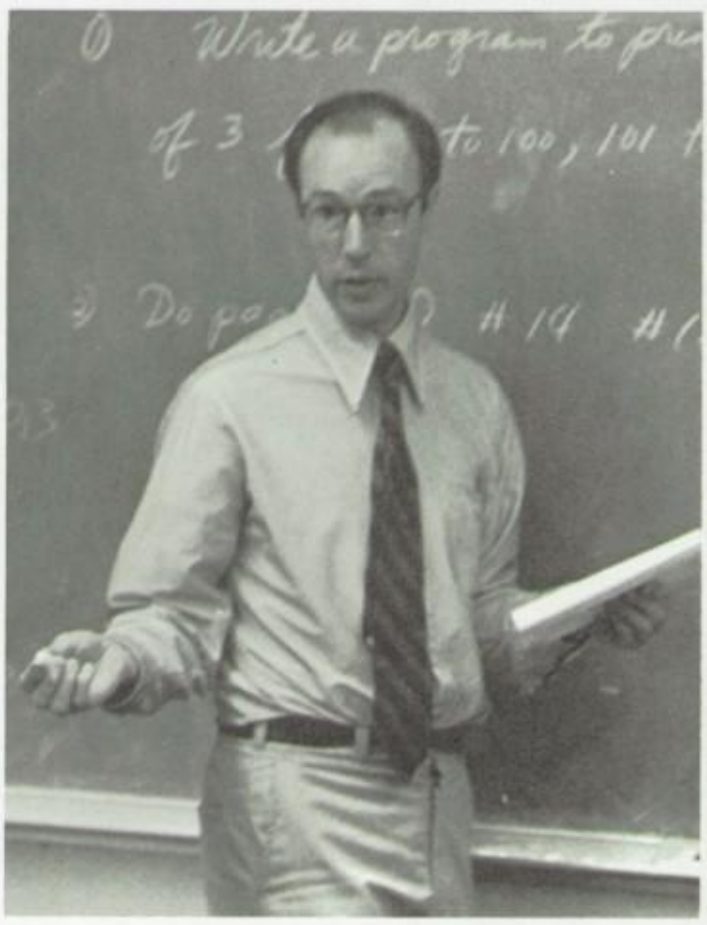
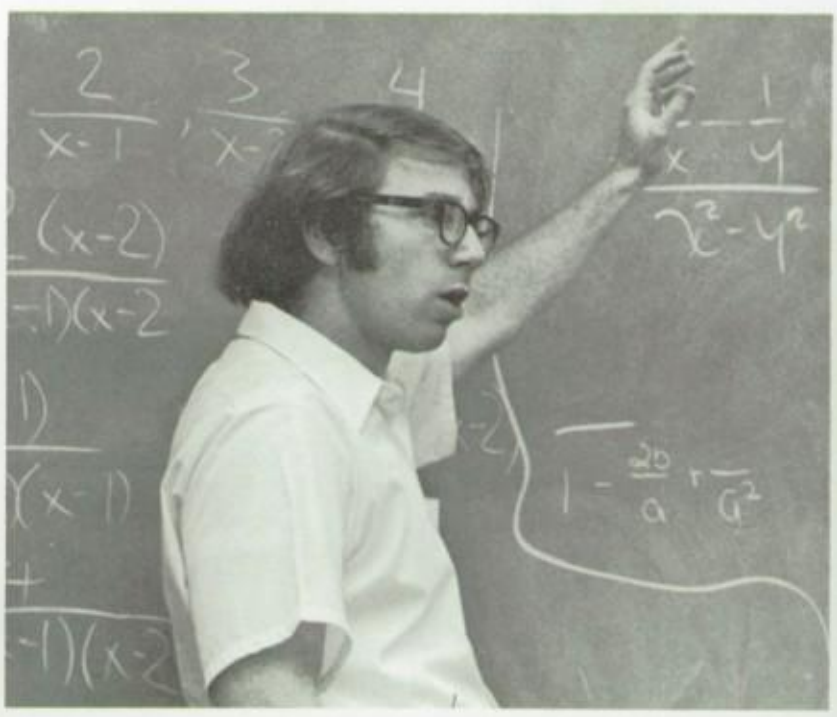
The Experiment Attempters

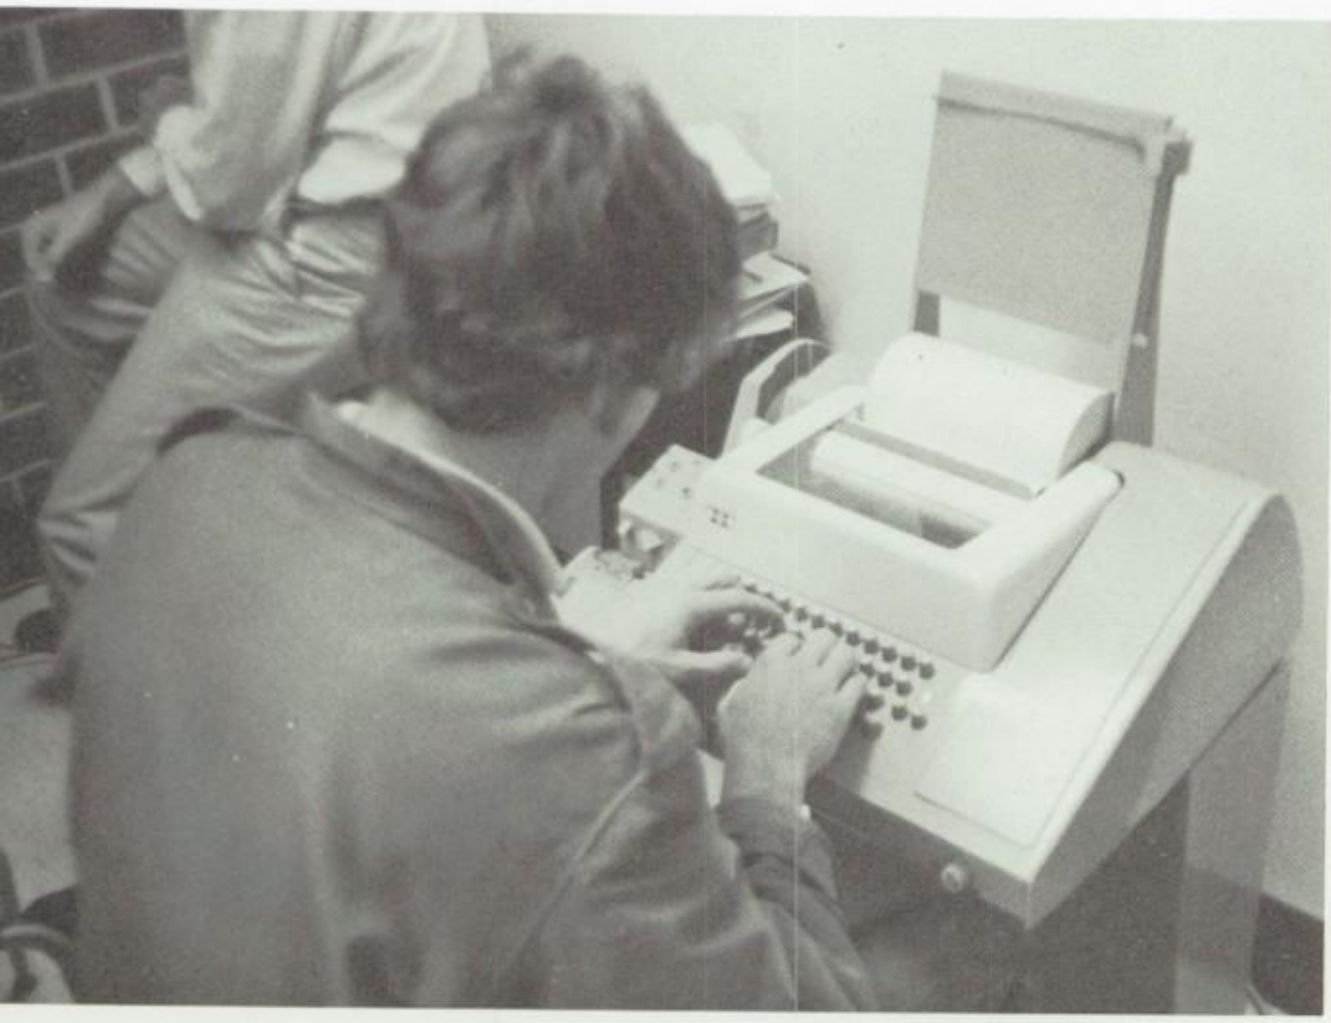
Puzzled and questioning faces are a common sight in the Math-Science Building as students attempt to solve the experiments in their science courses. Under the watchful eye of Mr. Starner (Left), Biology students trace the life-supporting systems in their development from the simple cell to the complex human body. Mrs. Matthews' Botany classes listen intently as CLS's own bonsai expert, Craig Sheridan (Below Left), explains the growth and care of the miniature Japanese trees. As Mr. Dillard checks the procedures, Chemistry III students, Linda Dulin and Beth Schofield, set up the apparatus for their demanding experiments.

Calculating Talents

Clockwise: Diane M. Totherow, Peter Barres, Kenneth M. Collins, Emily Baesel, Maxine G. Edwards (Director of Admissions), Elizabeth S. Harper.







In This Computerized Age . . .

In this computerized age, what would be more appropriate than learning the language to command a computer? That is exactly what many Juniors and Seniors are doing. By using a very simple computer language, BASIC, students learn the elementary procedures of computer programming under Mr. Barres. Throughout the day two or three students are busy using the terminals in the Math Lab. The computer acts as a teacher to the students. By printing out their errors, it automatically grades their homework. As the transition to computers continues, those students with a foreknowledge of computer science will have an advantage.

Experimenting With

Foreign Tongues

Have you ever walked through the halls of the Classroom Building, peeked into a room, and wondered why all those students were wearing headphones? If so, you have witnessed a foreign language class experimenting with the language lab. Students listen to tapes of experts in their language and make tapes of themselves to listen to their mistakes. The language lab not only offers a break from the classroom routine, but students also enjoy the benefits of direct contact with the foreign languages.

Fine Arts Expansion Draws Student Support

In the past two years student support in the Fine Arts Department has been rapidly increasing. The department responded by offering several new and exciting courses for this 1976-1977 school year. Under Mr. Elmore, Drama II was established to supplement Drama I. In their second year students have opportunities to continue developing acting skills and experiment with directing. In addition to drama classes, Mr. Elmore teaches T.V. Production, a course designed to teach the basic procedures of television production. Students at CLS are not only subject to the eye of portable T.V. cameras but also to the eye of 35 mm cameras. Mr. Browne's photography classes continue to grow in popularity as students learn to take quality pictures and develop their film.

The basement hall of the Language Arts Building echoes with music as Mr. Eison directs the energetic voices in the Performing Chorus. Although most students learn to sing in an ensemble, several are also acting as accompanists for the chorus. Among the highlights of the year, the chorus, which is composed mainly of 10th through 12th grade students, performed for the Parents' Council in November, for the Charlotte Latin family at Christmas, and for the school in a Spring Concert. The primary goals of the Fine Arts Department have been to encourage an awareness for and an appreciation of the arts. With such student support, the department should feel a sense of accomplishment.

Hawk Gridders Post Best Record Ever

The Charlotte Latin football team, under the auspices of Coach Patten and Coach Kane, compiled a very respectable 6 and 4 record in only its second year of varsity competition. Opposition was considerably tougher than last year. Only 23 players were on the team, and seven of these were playing their first year of organized football. The loss of last year's leading rusher, Pitt Rutter, early in the season, hurt greatly; but Jeff Goodman, a transfer from East Mecklenburg, did an outstanding job of carrying the ball for the Hawks. Jeff was the team's leading rusher and was also the first Latin player to gain over a thousand yards in a single season.

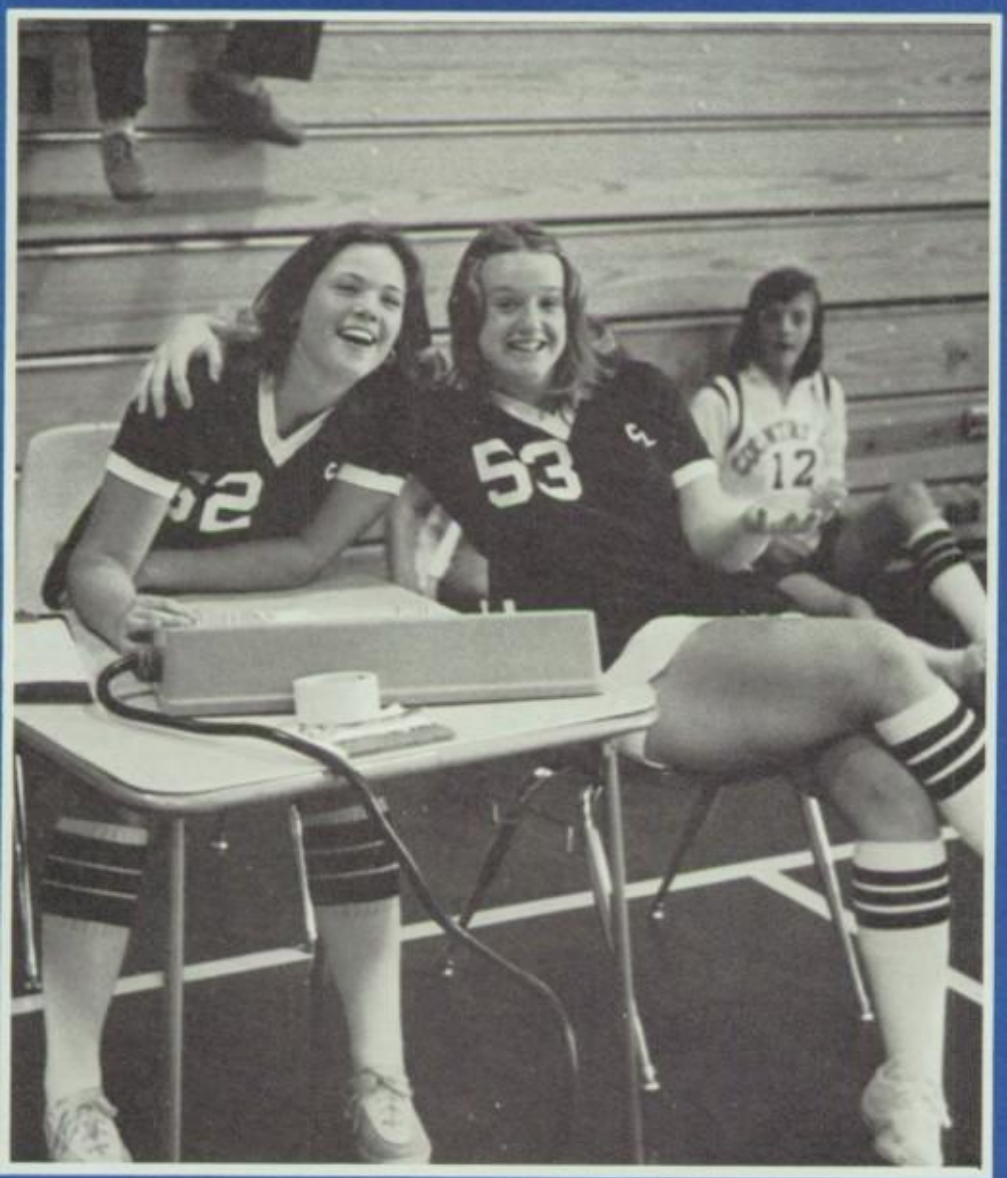
Varsity Volleyball: Girls Play Rough!

The Varsity Volleyball team has been a dedicated team from its beginning. CLS proudly supports these ambitious and hard-working girls. Top Left: THE VARSITY VOLLEYBALL TEAM: Top Row: Anne Grigg, Allison Copeland, Mariah Pitt, Donna Reid, Mary Howard Pitt, Kaye Pressly: Bottom Row: Joanne Rixon, Katherine Price, Sarah Lee Copeland, Ruth Knight, Mary Covington, Coach Stockton. Middle Left: Fun and happy moments add to a team's togetherness. Captain, Donna Reid, and co-captain, Mariah Pitt, always have smiles and encouraging words to keep the team on its toes. Bottom Left: Still smiling and ready to play, the team members anticipate a successful match. Below: Tension mounts as Coach Stockton eagerly awaits the outcome of Allison Copeland's spike.



The J.V. Soccer team, under Coach Howard's supervision, showed a great deal of improvement in putting together an impressive 5 and 7 record. Many of this year's team members were 6th and 7th graders, so the J.V. outlook is a bright one. With such a great number of young and inexperienced players, the team has progressed with great promise. Right: Seventh grader Brad Shaver steps in to stop an onrushing Carmel Academy player. Opposite: Bottom Right: Fullback Alf Bryant heads the ball away from a waiting player as teammate Greg Headen looks on. J.V.'s Hustle Key to Future

Hawk Booters Fight to Even Season

The Varsity soccer team, under the guidance of Coach Soesbee, proved itself mature and seasoned in establishing a fine 9-9-1 record. The team, comprised mainly of juniors and sophomores, has improved greatly since last year. One reason for the vast improvement was a trip to the Clemson Soccer Camp this past summer. The team placed sixth in the Ravenscroft Tournament, losing to eventual champion Ravenscroft by a narrow 2-1 margin. The Hawks were beaten on penalty kicks by Independence High School although the team outplayed the Patriots in one of its best games of the season. Sophomores Mike Thompson (Forward) and Buck Bryant (Fullback) later were both named to the CISAA All-Conference Team.

Run for Fun

Finishing fifth out of eight teams in the state, the Cross Country team proves that consistent hard work and training succeeds. CLS is proud to have such sedulous athletes. Thank You, guys. Below: Bob Lucas recovers after a hard five mile run. Bottom Right: Success ends in smiles from seniors, Pender Murphy, Park Hoey, and Jim Smith. CLS Swim Team Wins State Title

On your mark, get set, "BANG!" . . . And the CLS swim team is off, striving for victory! Coached by Steve Howard, the CLS swimmers won the North Carolina Independent School Meet at Duke University on September 18, 1976. Congratulations to the successful team. Left: Coach Howard anxiously waits to hear the final results of the last heat. Below: Lisa Ashe smiles after placing first and winning a hard race. Great swimming, Lisa! J. V. Basketball

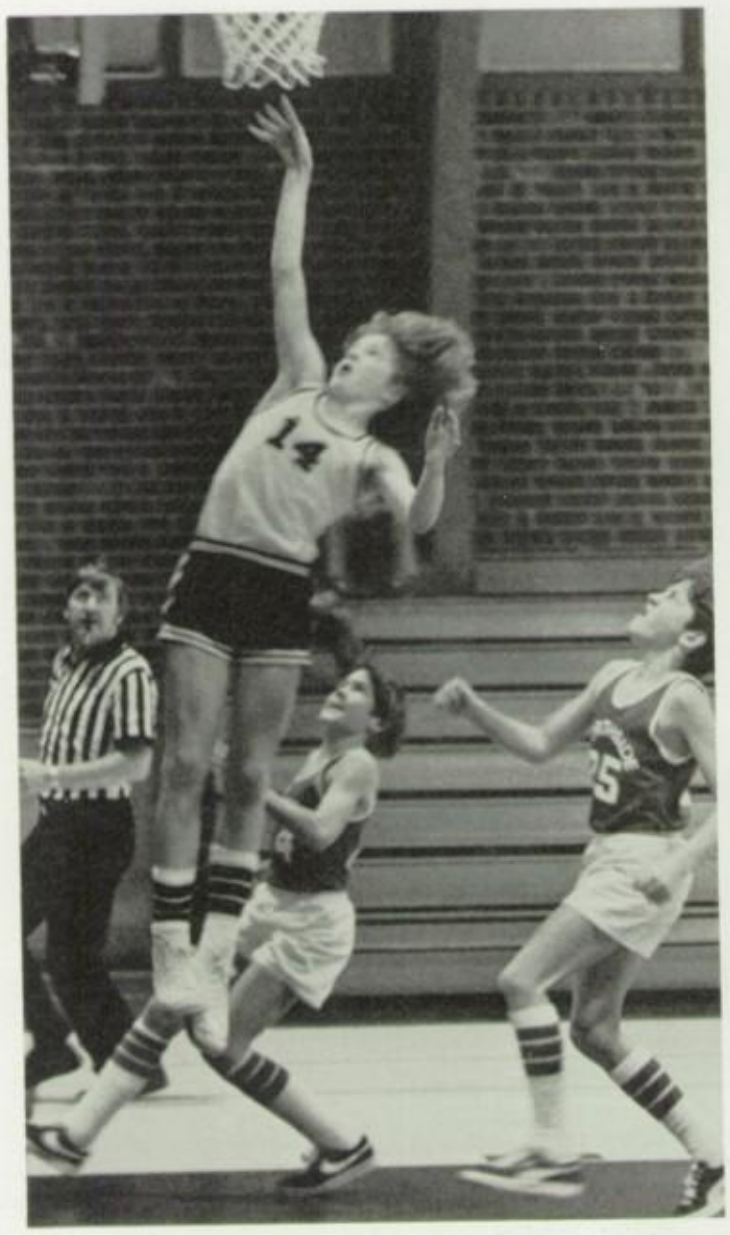
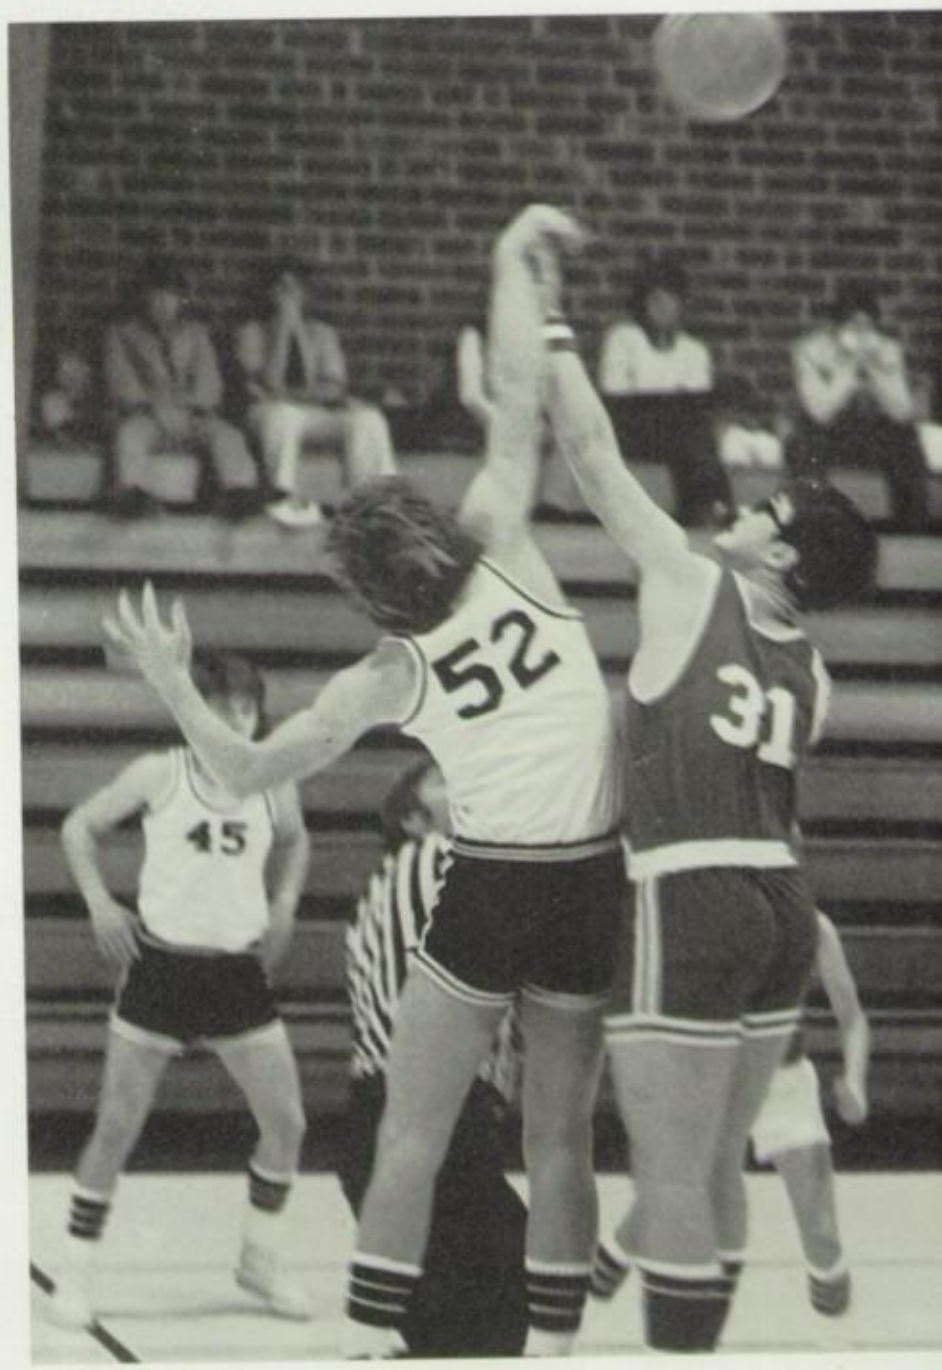
Below: Sammy White leaps high for a lay-up as Northside defenders struggle vainly to catch up. Right: Coach Correll returns to the bench after expressing disapproval over an official's call. Bottom: Mike Lasher once again controls opening tap.





Directed by first year coach John "Crunch" Correll, the J. V. Basketball Team compiled an excellent sixteen-and-one record. The only loss, which was to Providence Day, came in the second game of the season, and it was avenged by a 49-40 score later in the season at Charlotte Latin.

Varsity B

The Varsity 'B' basketball team enjoyed a superb season this year under the auspices of new head coach Mike Lynch. The team won thirteen regular-season games, and seven of these were by thirty points or more. In the varsity 'B' Invitational the Hawks crushed Gaston Day by forty-six points in the semi-final game and defeated Providence Day in the finals to highlight a perfect season.

Roundballers Enjoy Successful Season

The Varsity basketball team, returning as defending league co-champions, was guided by Dave Thompson to a twelve-and-ten record this season. The Hawks played well in the Myers Park Christmas tournament, losing to Mecklenburg 4-A power Independence by seven points and crushing league rival Country Day by twenty-one. The team enjoyed an exciting victory over the Rebels earlier in the season. The only three league loses came by a total of seven points. The Hawks reached the hundred point barrier four times and scored a school record of 107 points against league-foe Gaston Day.

J.V. Tennis

The J. V. Boys' and Girls' tennis teams, featuring some fine talent from the 7th and 8th grades, experienced a promising season. The teams, under the supervision of Mrs. Culbertson, should supply future varsity teams with key players. Below: One of the top players on the J.V. boys' team, Randy Newman, concentrates on return shot.

Tennis Boosts Varsity 'B' Teams

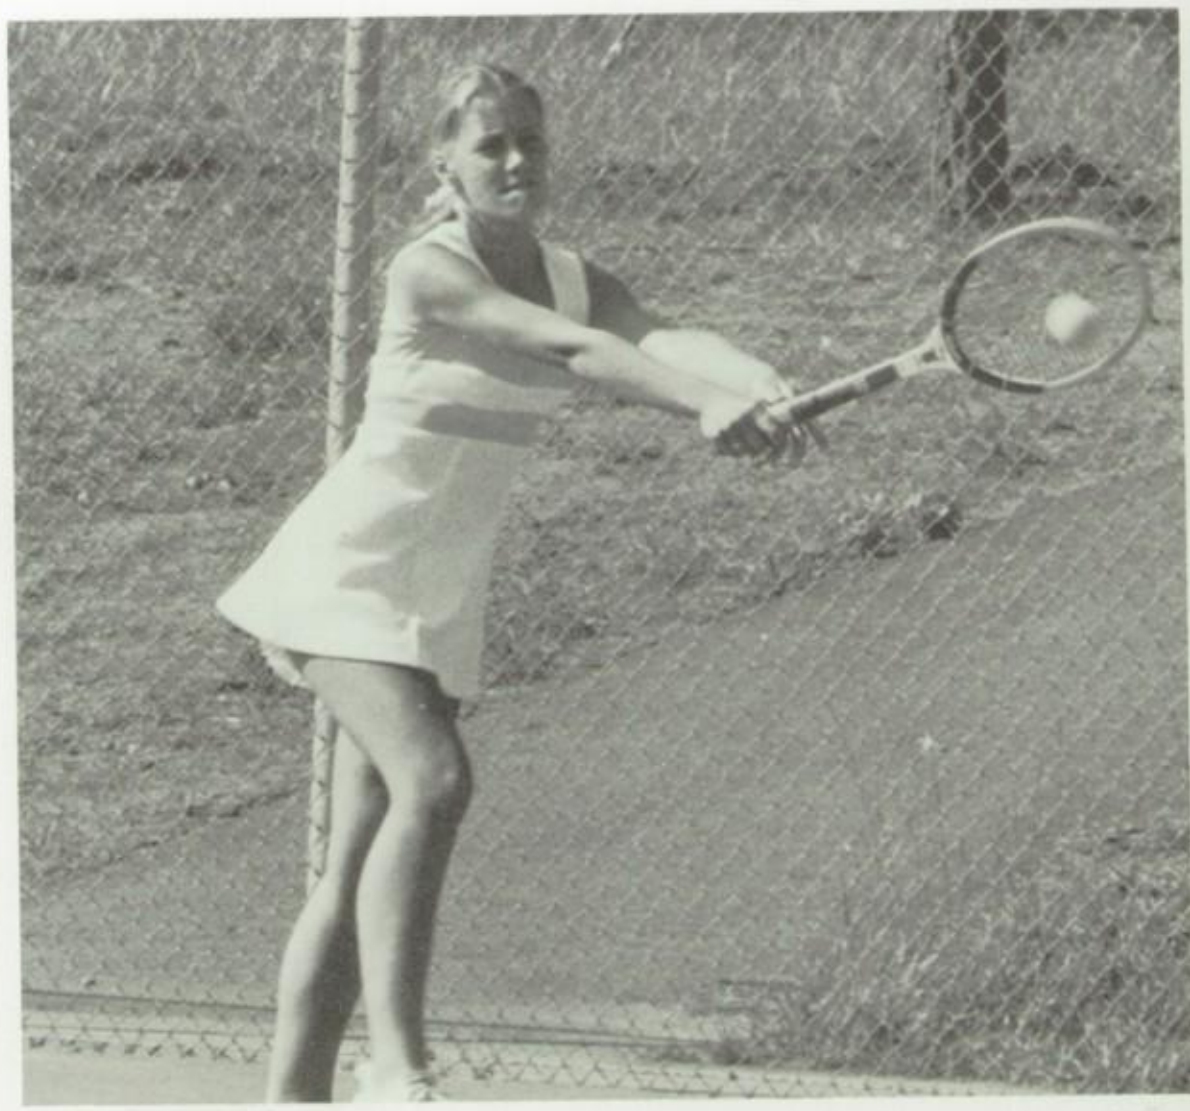
Varsity Girls' Tennis Team



The Varsity Girls' Tennis Team was a strong team this year. Tying for first place in the State Independent School Tournament this fall, shows how the team can pull together when the competition is demanding.

Two players, Chris Skinner and Susan Fitzgibbon, show fine form . . . and good backhands.

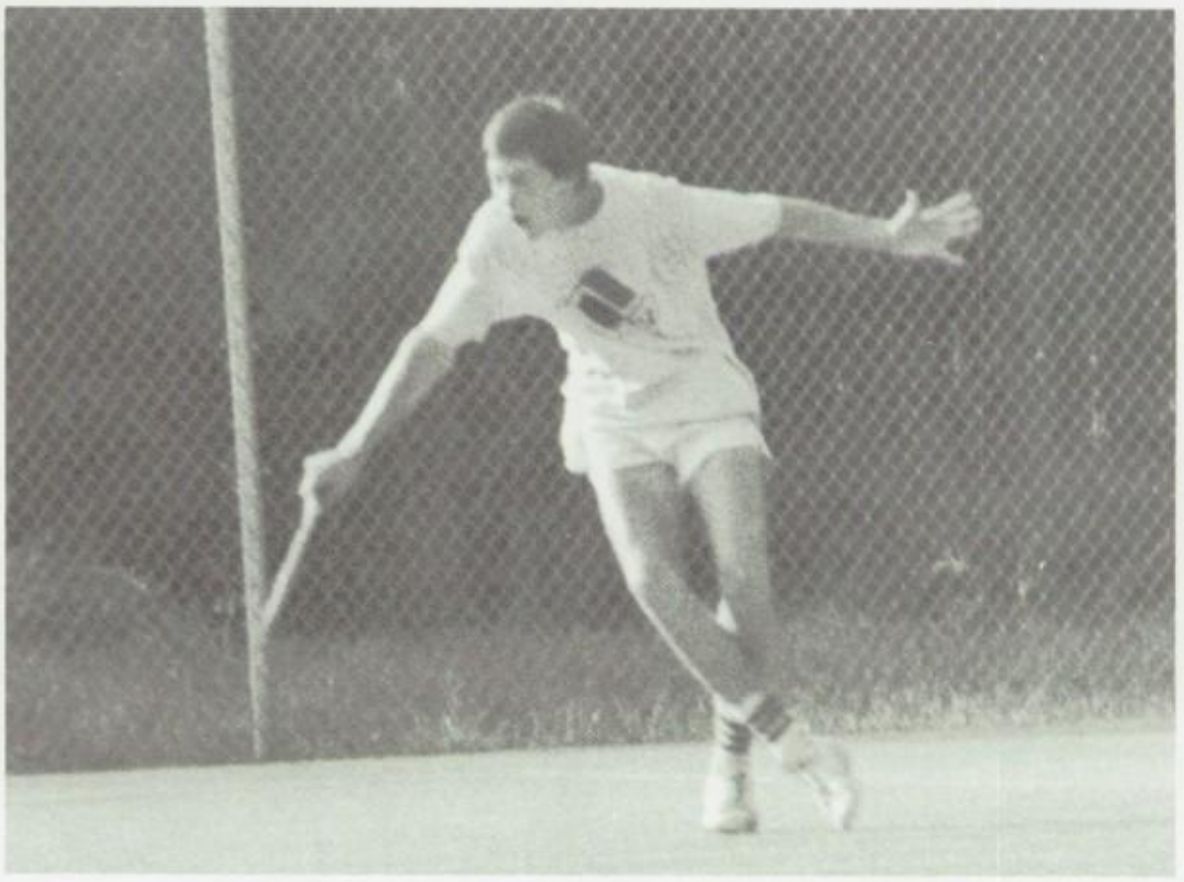
Below: Pender Murphy, Latin's top player, uses his reach to place his approach shot. Left: Compie Newman, after a strenous basketball season, has trouble lifting his racket.



As defending State Champions, the Varsity Boys' Tennis Team began a confident and expectant tennis season. CLS has been lucky to have such a talented, skillful, and successful tennis team over the years. Fantastic work and good luck for the future! CLS would also like to show its appreciation to each senior participating in his senior year.

Tennis Is My Racket

CLS Women Prove Hard to Catch

Cindermen Have Year of Rebuilding

The CLS Track Team used the 1976-1977 season as a year to rebuild. After the loss of many key seniors from last year's team, the Hawks concentrated on building up the younger team members.
Right: Junior James Benfield has good showing in the hurdles. Below Right: Varsity and Junior Varsity teams go through rigorous warm-up drills. Baseball Strikes Latin

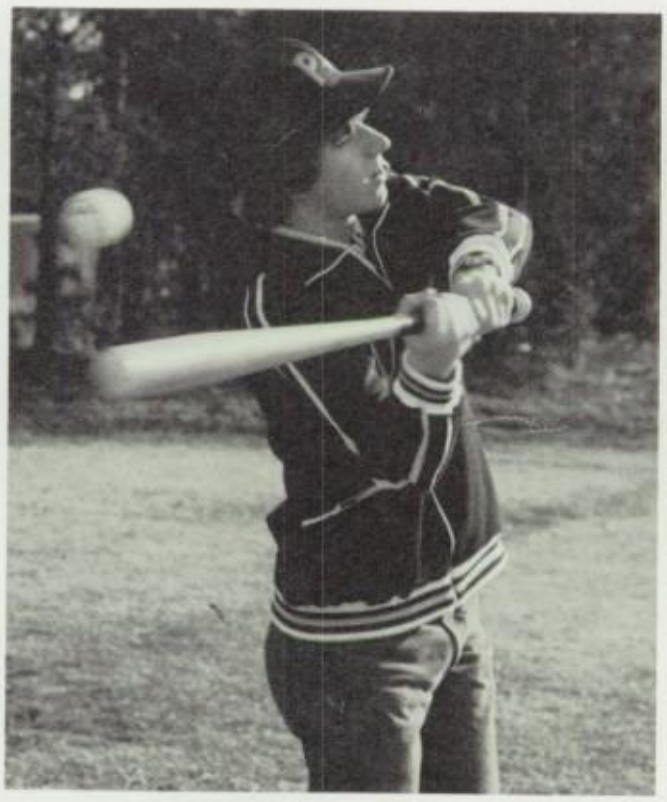
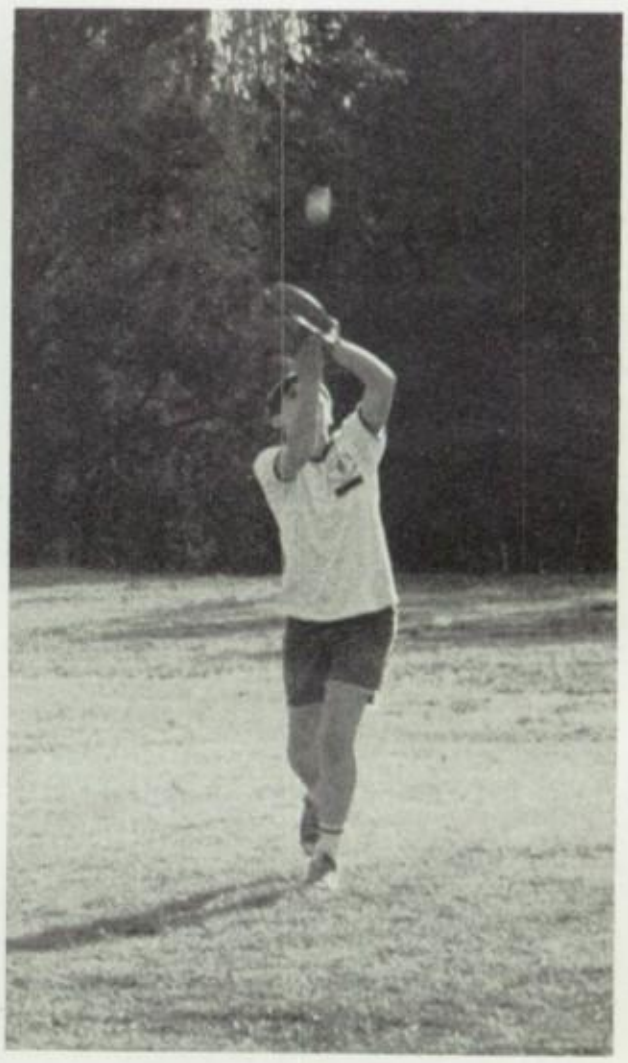
Spring of 1977 was welcomed by the debut of the Charlotte Latin Baseball team. The first day of tryouts featured a good response to the team from boys of many grade levels. Left: Senior Jeff Goodman stretches out on throw from the outfield. Below Left: Chris Ferebee tosses the ball for warm-ups. Below Right: Park Hoey shows an eagle eye during batting practice. Below: Edward Fox concentrates on good fielding techniques. Bottom: Alex Fellers snares the ball in catcher position.





Latin Grapplers in First Competitive Season

The Latin wrestling team, under the direction of first-year coach Bob Patten, had its first season of interscholastic competition this year. The team, composed of seventh through twelfth graders, had two matches with Carmel, a match with Country Day, and a match with Sun Valley. Several wrestlers entered the Country Day Invitational Wrestling Tournament, held at the end of the season. The team had only one senior and should enjoy a good season next year.

CAUTION: Children at Play

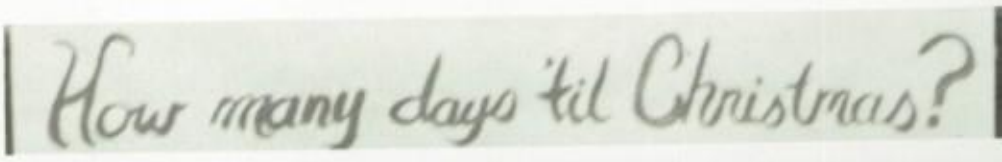
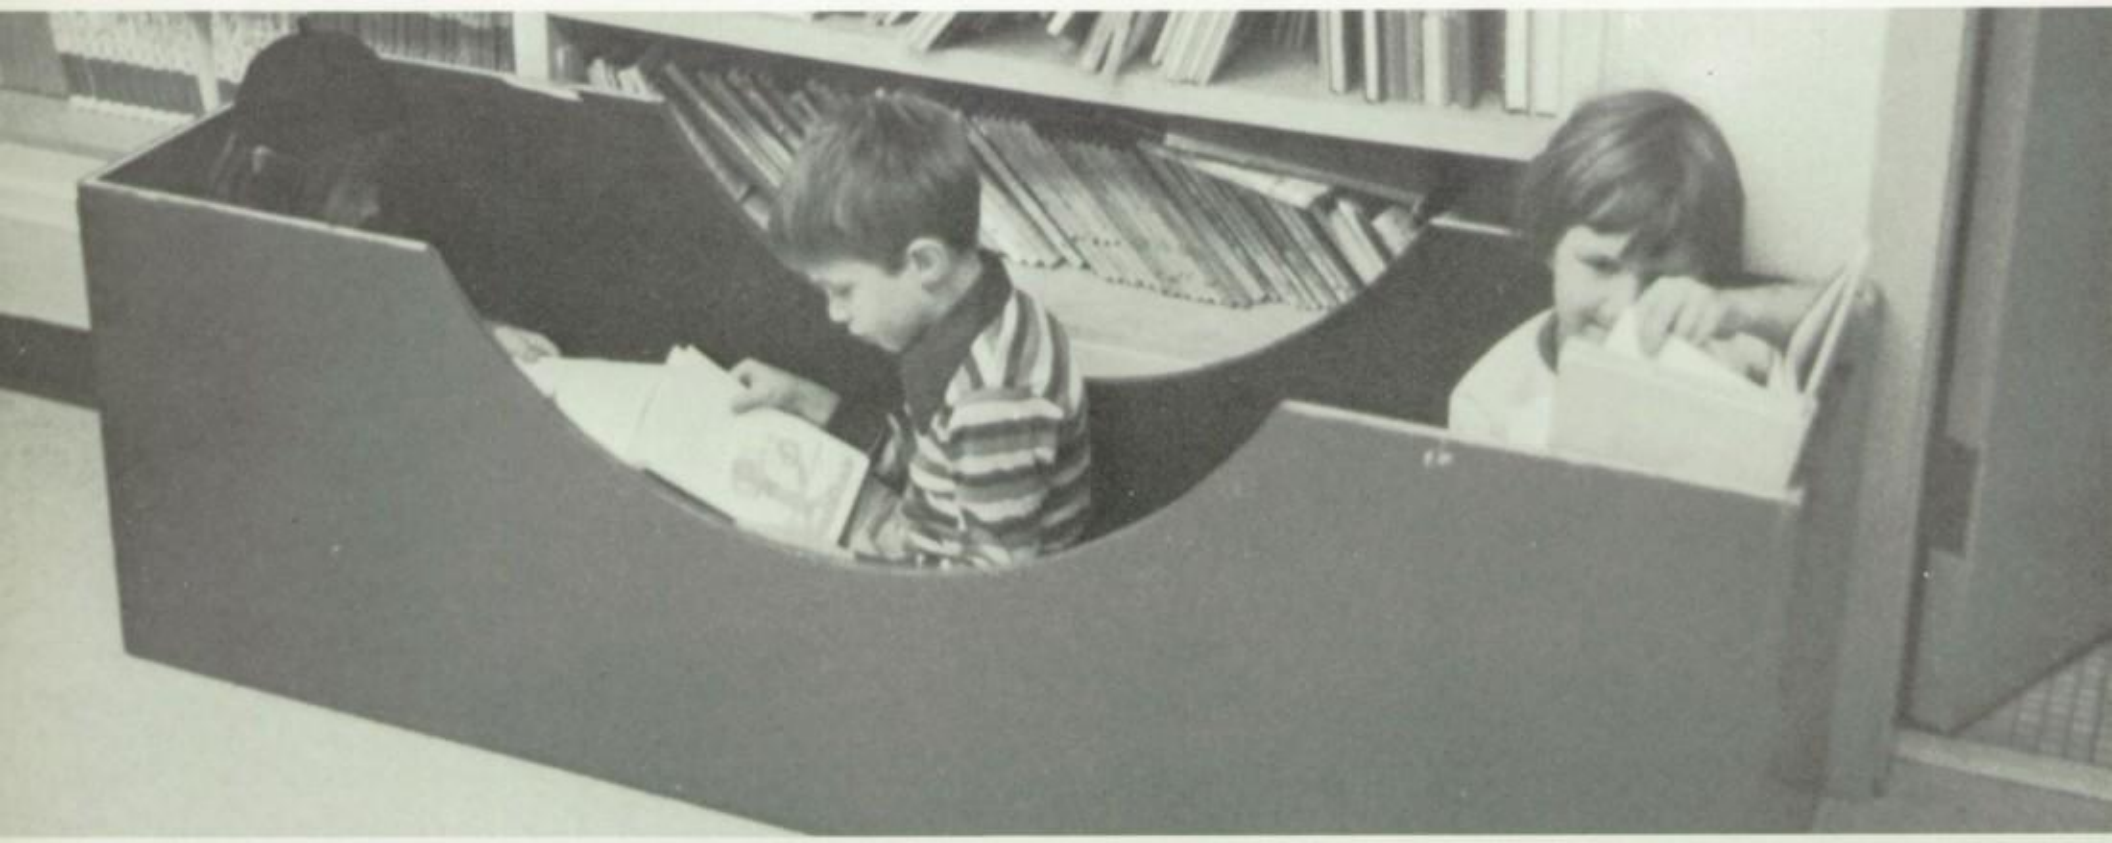
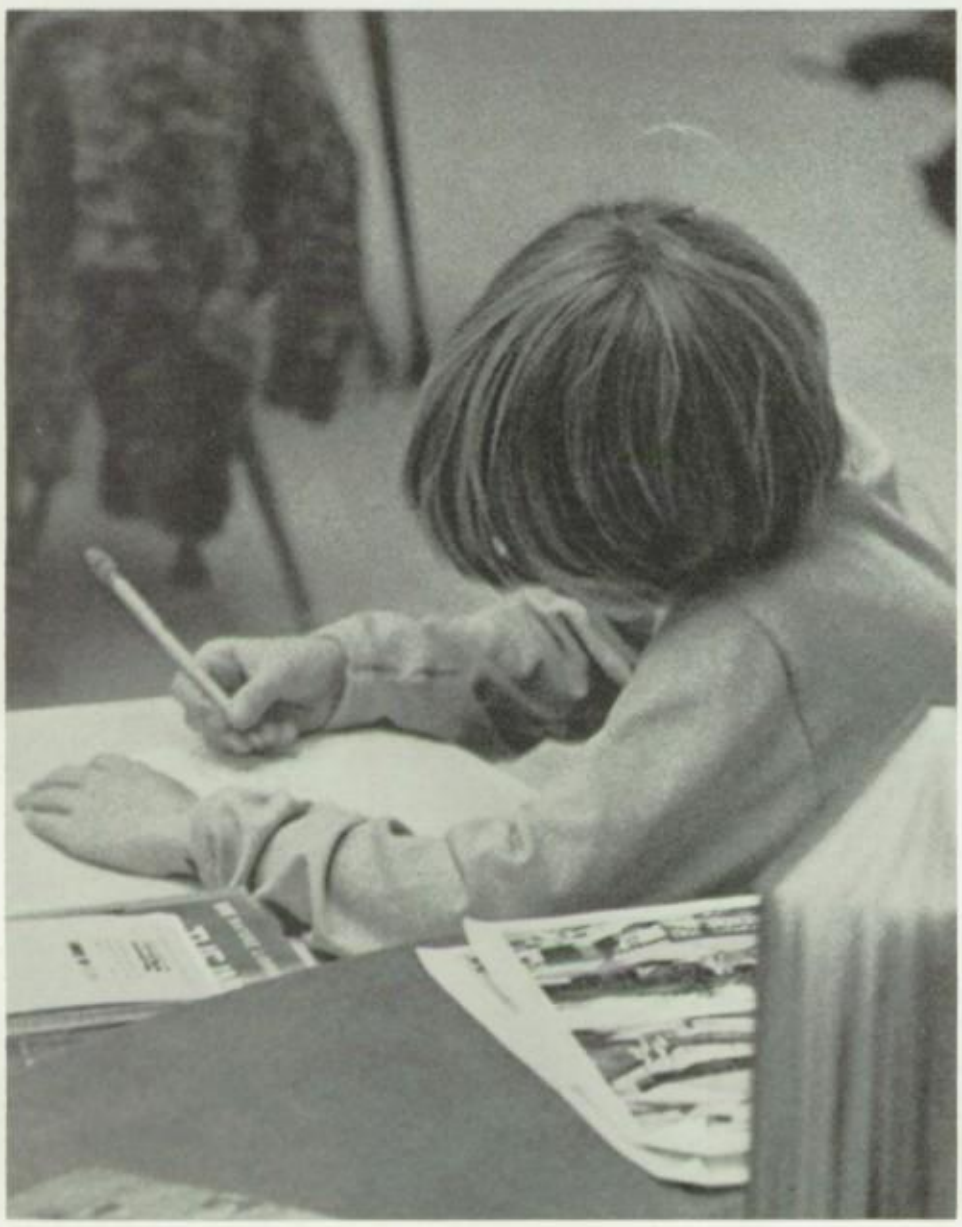
TIME OUT!

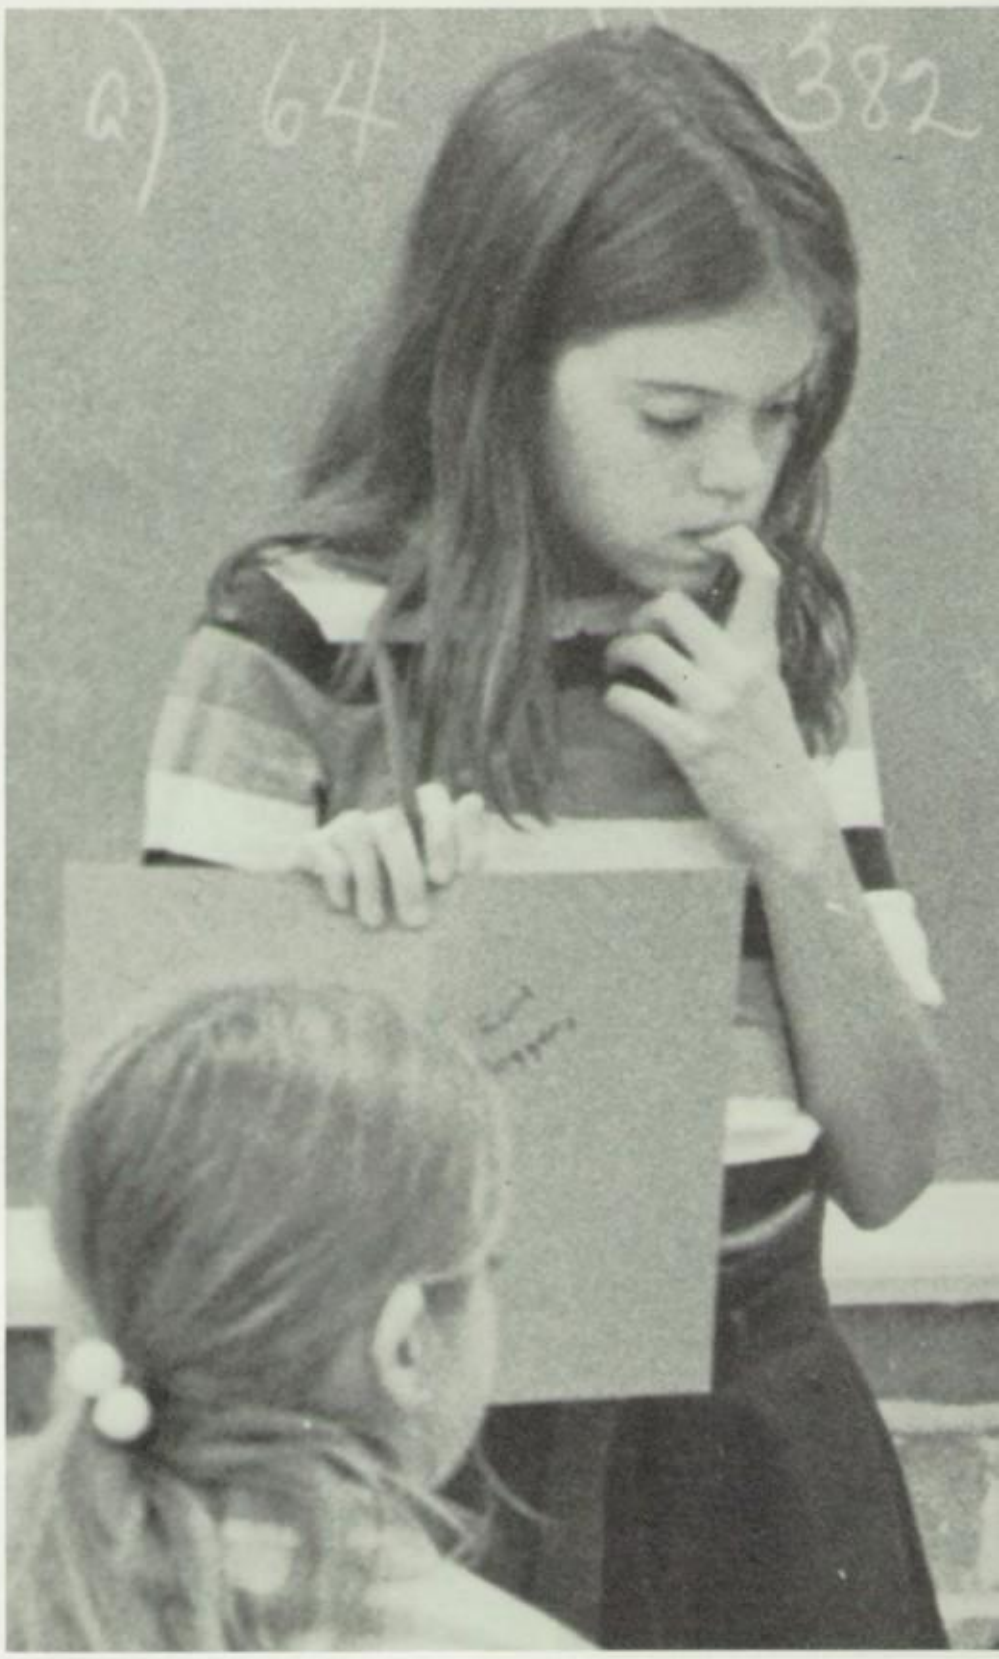
Lower School students anxiously await their Christmas vacation. (Clockwise) Laura Jackson, Nicole Ewing and Leigh Luter sing with the Christmas spirit; the fifth graders, under the direction of Mr. George Eison, sing at the Festival of Lights, the CLS Christmas program; Mrs. Rabb explains Hanukah to the second grade; and the third graders, under the direction of Mrs. Williams, also sing at the Festival of Lights, at Providence Baptist Church.



Activities in the Lower School come in every shape and size. (Top Left:) Second grade students prepare for the treats of Halloween with the construction of personalized masks, an activity sponsored by the Charlotte Nature Museum. (Middle Left:) A future CLS football star is born; Dave McMahon and Brian Dillard are often a part of the football games of all ages held during afternoon school hours. (Below Left:) Mr. Meserve's sixth grade class tries something new? (Top Right:) Performing before the Parents' Council, the Lower School chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Williams, fills the air with song. (Bottom Right:) Lunch time is one activity in which all Lower School members are sure to participate.







Readin', 'Ritin' and 'Rithmetic

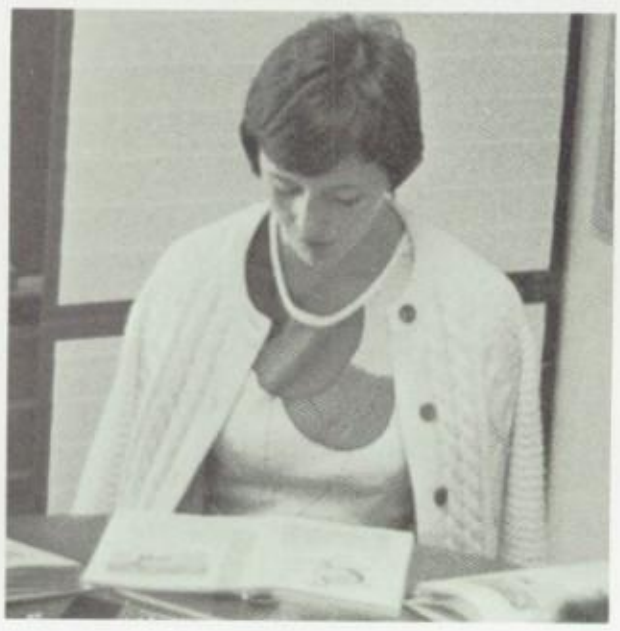
Academics play an important role at Charlotte Latin School, and Lower School students quickly learn the importance of efficient study habits. They have the benefit of specialized instructors as well as specialized techniques. (Opposite: Top) Perhaps it is "the change of scenery" which makes learning easier for these first graders. (Opposite: Bottom Left) For another student the satisfactory technique seems to be independent study, while this student (Opposite: Bottom Right) has not quite decided what approach she should take. (Left and Bottom Left) After the harder academics, students are always ready to exercise their talents in both the arts of cut-and-paste and music. (Bottom Right) Back in the classroom, small group attention is also beneficial, if the small group's attention can be kept.

The Guiding Lights

Mr. Robinson (Right) was not the Upper School's loss, but rather the Lower School's gain when he moved offices this summer to become the head of the younger half of Charlotte Latin School. With the experienced aid of Mrs. Crockett (Below), a veteran of the Lower School, Mr. Robinson has assumed his new duties smoothly and is very happy in his new position. Both he and Mrs. Crockett are kept especially busy with plans for the addition of a kindergarten and for possible expansion.

The Challengers

Important to the Lower School are its various specialists and classroom instructors, who strive to prepare their students for future education and life. Pictured counterclockwise, beginning with the immediate left, are Ms. Pettyjohn (Art), Ms. Williams (Music), Coach Howard (Physical Education), Ms. Burns (Language Arts), Ms. Owens (1st Grade), Ms. Cooke (1st), and Ms. Vinroot (Science), with Ms. Hopkins (Math) in the center.



The Pedagogues

Caught in the act of teaching are, clockwise, beginning with the immediate right, Ms. Burke (2nd Grade), Ms. Johnson (2nd), Ms. Grier (4th Grade), Ms. Thompson (3rd Grade), Ms. Lambeth (3id), and Ms. Vandiver (1st), and center is Ms. Dunn (2nd - substituting for Ms. Neely who is not pictured).

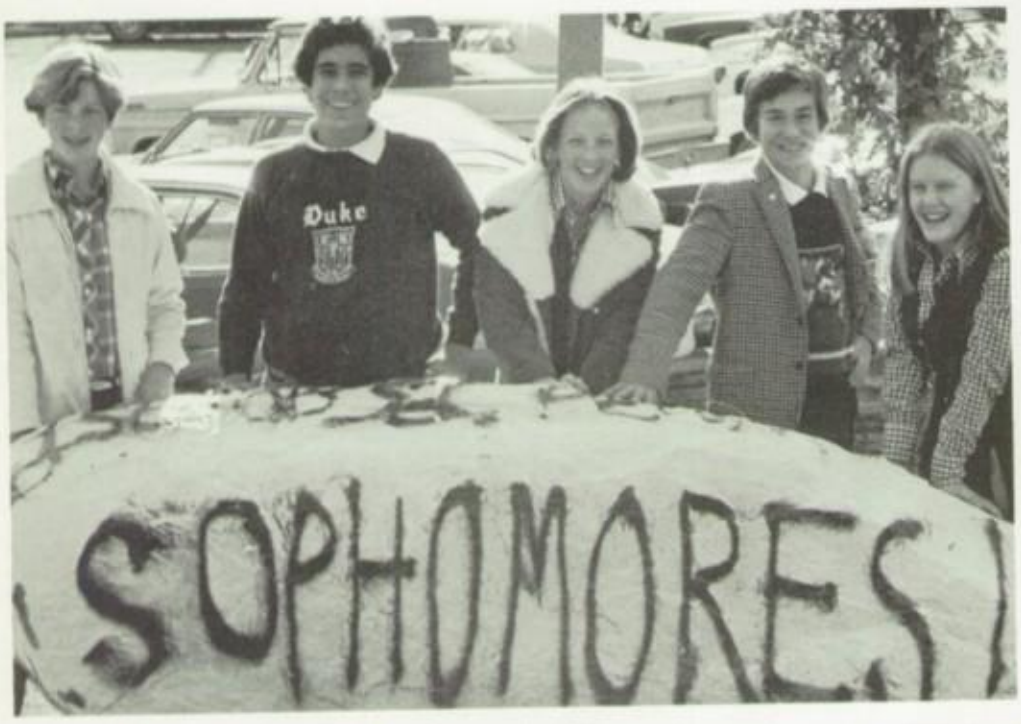
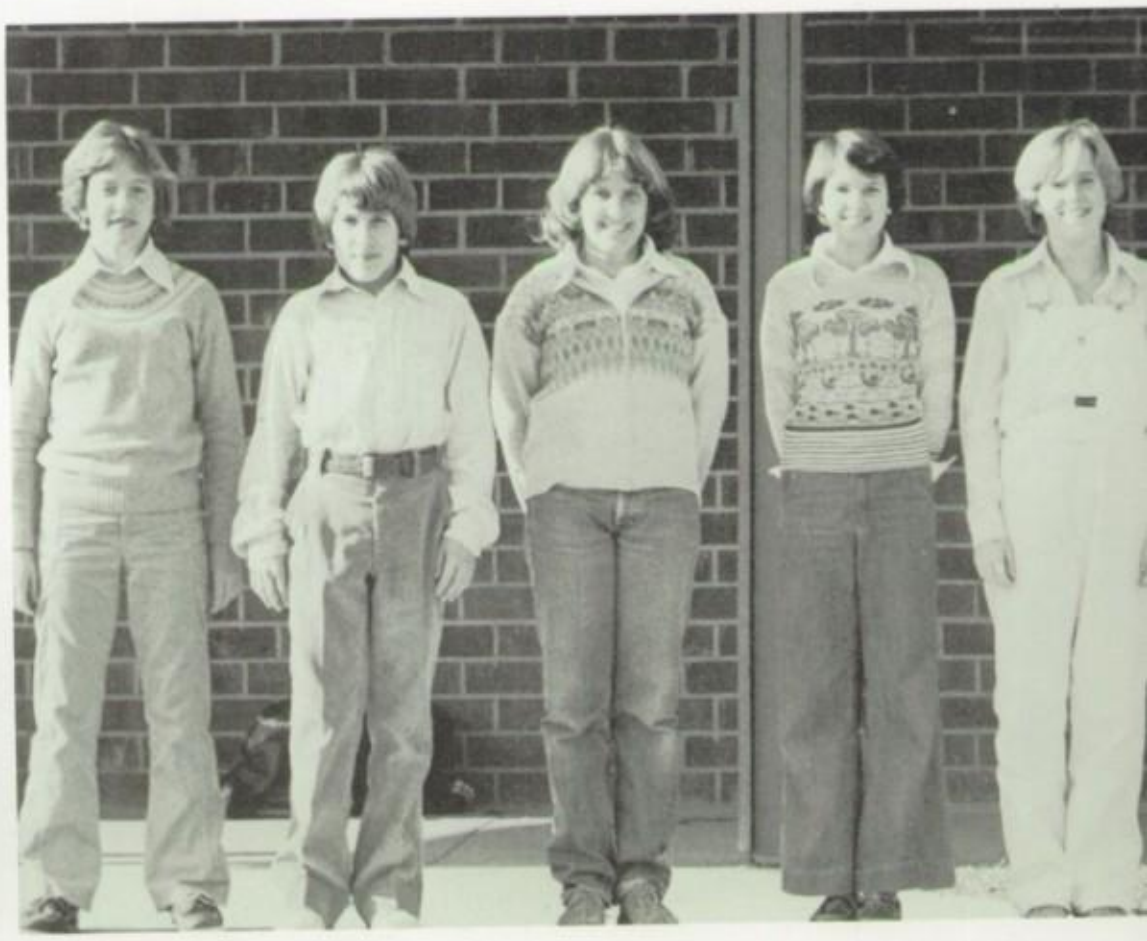
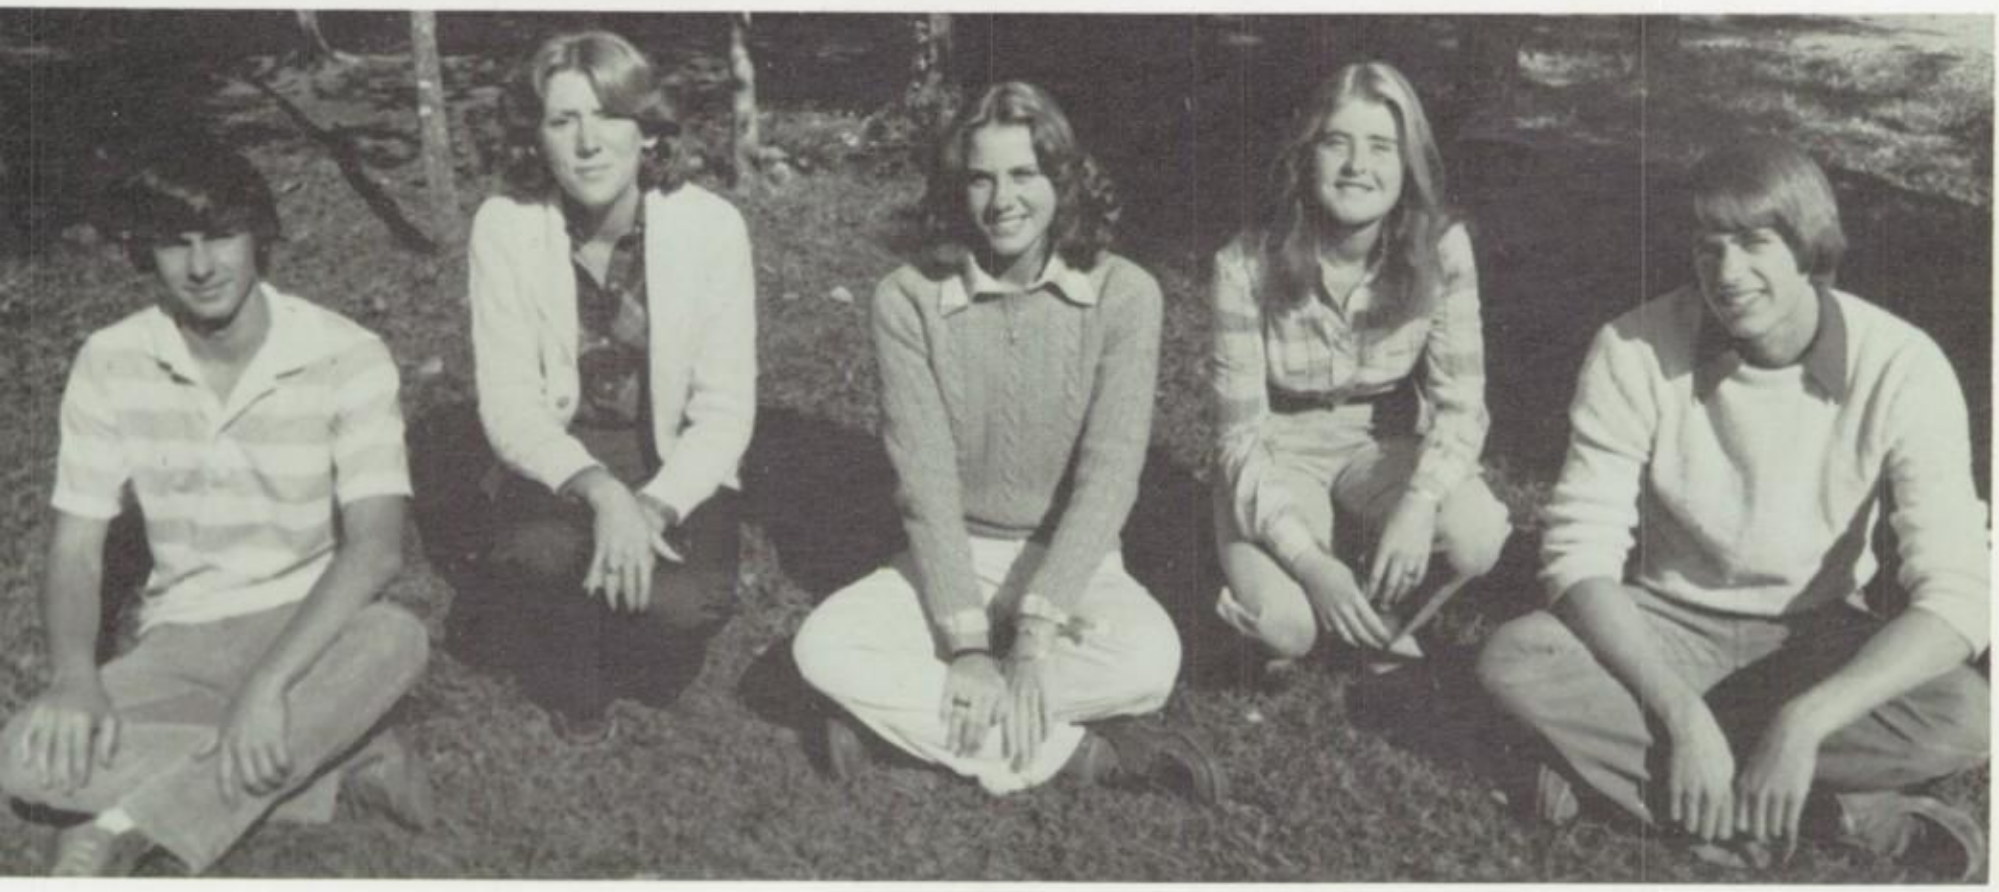
Future Politicians

(Opposite Page: Counterclockwise) Mr. Fox talks to the Jr. Class, one of the many talks he had with the students. Tommy Cobb and Jeff Goodman sing "bass-fully" during a chorus class. The Jr. Class had a tough job to handle - the Prom. The officers are (left to right) Joe Townsend, Student Council Representative; Kathy Mattson, Secretary; Katherine Medearis, Treasurer; Robin Waters, Vice-President; and Wally Jacobs, President. Parents Council gave a reception welcoming Mr. Fox. (Clockwise) Eighth grade officers are (Front Row) Jack Cobb, Treasurer; Shep Robinson, President; (Back Row) Kim Loughlin, Secretary; Mei-Mei Lyle, Vice-President; and Virginia Rutter, Student Council Representative. Seventh grade officers led newcomers to Jr. High. They include (Left to Right) Shannon Harris, Student Council Representative; Joe Lucas, President; Sally Gray, Secretary; Emily Calhoun, Treasurer; and Sue Williams, Vice-President. Ninth grade officers are (Front Row) Angus McBryde, President; Freddie Dulin, Student Council Representative; (Back Row) Edward Fox, Treasurer; Suzie Harbold, Secretary; and John Wickham, Vice-President. Sophomores showed spirit by painting the rock. (Left to Right) Marge Gilmore, Treasurer; Dennis Kokenes, Student Council Representative; Gingie Boyd, Secretary; Todd Blair, President; and Carter Fox, Vice-President.

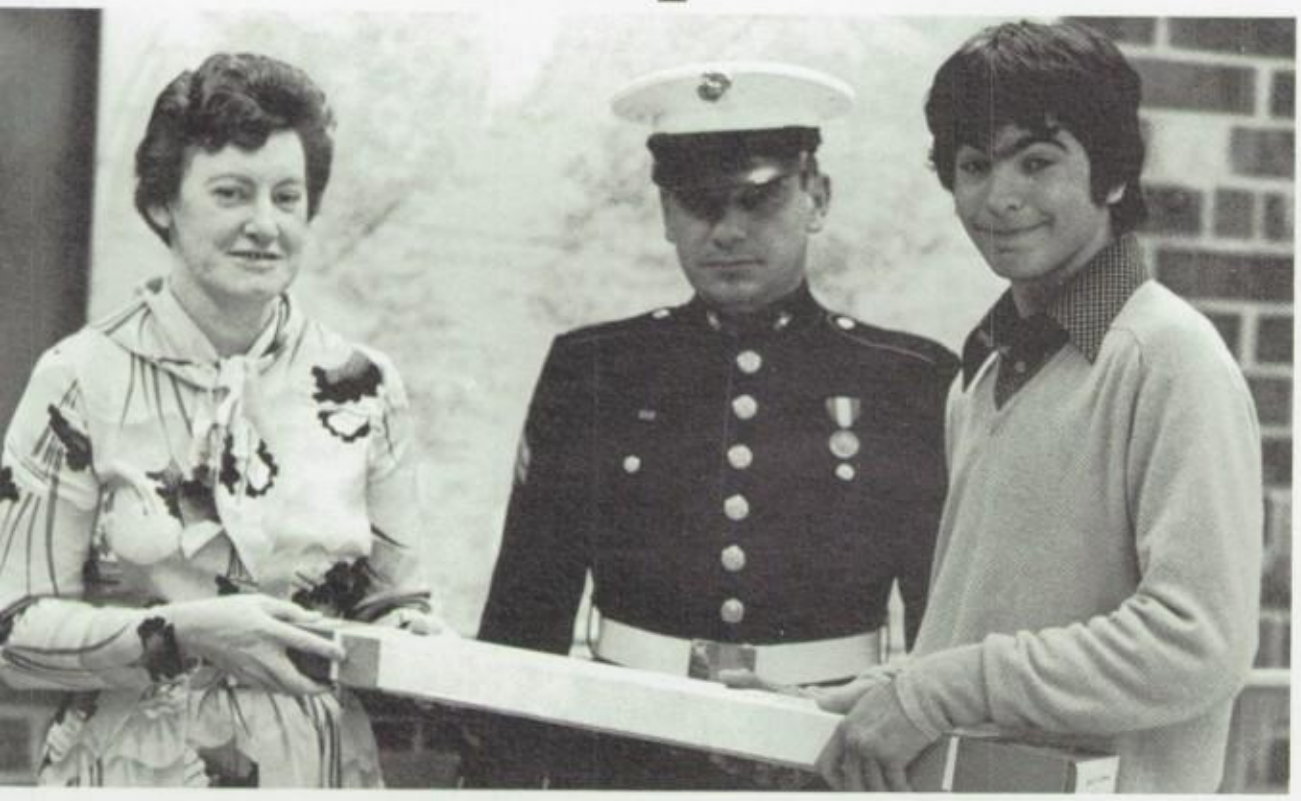




Something Different



Campus Activities Vary



(Left) Paul Nigro accepts a flag for his prize-winning essay written in Mr. Correll's history class. (Bottom Left) Bob Lucas meets Congressman Jim Martin at the Festival in the Park. (Below) Where do you plan to attend college? With over one hundred colleges visiting CLS on College Day, October 27, 1976, that important decision becomes more difficult as students realize the many opportunities. (Opposite: Top) Junior boys devour their lunch in those valuable 23 minutes. (Middle) The 7th and 8th grade dance is enjoyed by the chaperones, as Mr. Lynch, Mrs. Hamilton, and Mr. Barres, "get down" to the beat. (Bottom Left) George, the campus canine, is frequently caught napping behind the benches. (Bottom Right) Nestled in its aerie, the Hawk enjoys the final football game of the season.

Hardly a Quiet Moment . . .

An Active Senior Class

Duke Lineberry, Jim Smith, Carol Lomax, and Alex Fellers (right) proclaim that Seniors are number one. Dr. Collins (below) takes time out from his busy schedule to play his guitar. Anne Marshall, David Ferebee, and Chris Skinner relax while listening to the music. [Opposite page] Bernard Vandenburg, a French exchange student, enjoys a typical American lunch (top left). Chris Skinner (top right) and Susan Fitzgibbon prove that "there's a big delight in every bite." Elisabeth Baynard (bottom left) has the busy job of operating the snack bar. Alex Fellers (bottom right) slowly wanders off to cloud nine. "And furthermore," maintains Howard Levine, "it was only a 25 foot shot." (middle right)

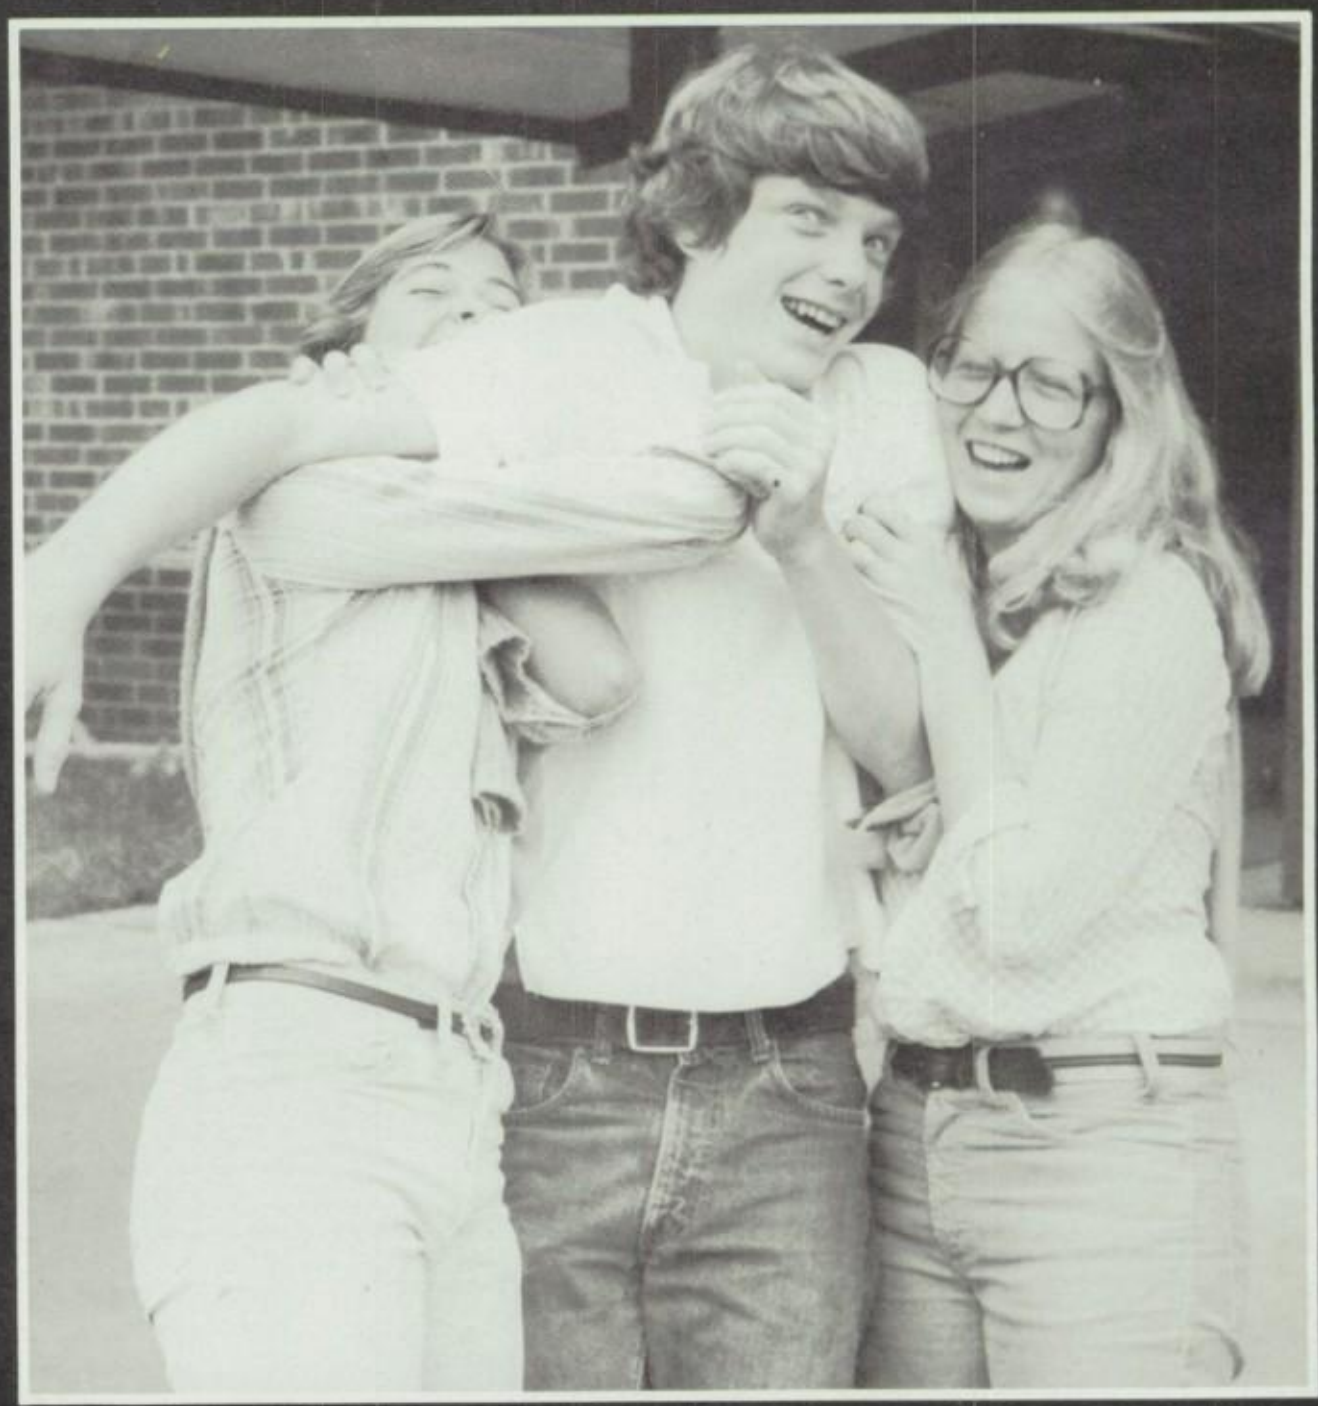
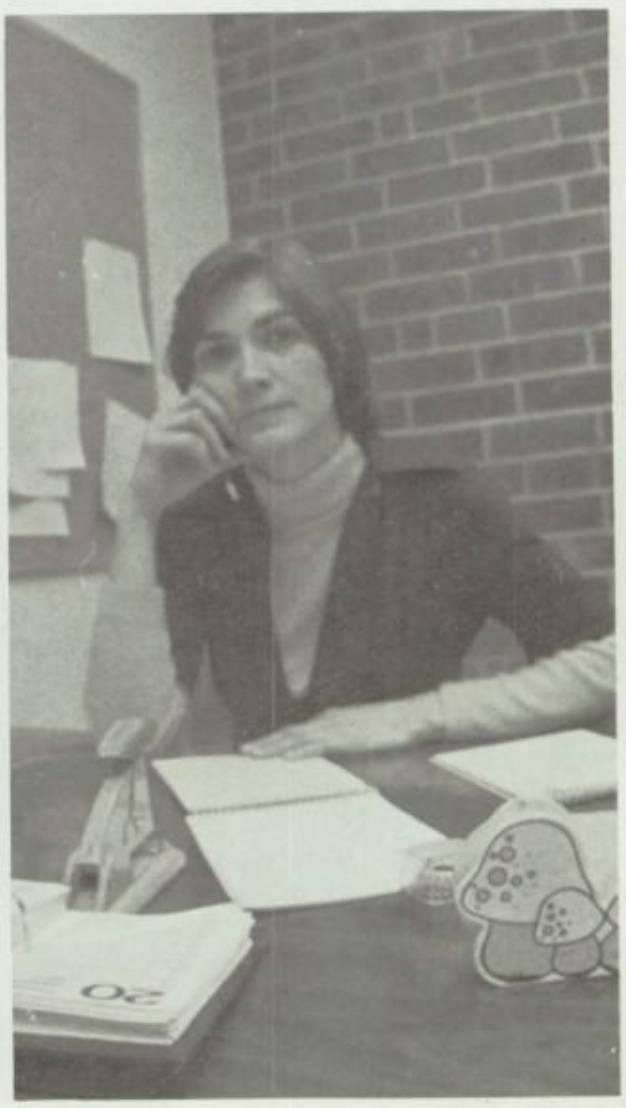
"Though the course may change in time,
Rivers always reach the sea."

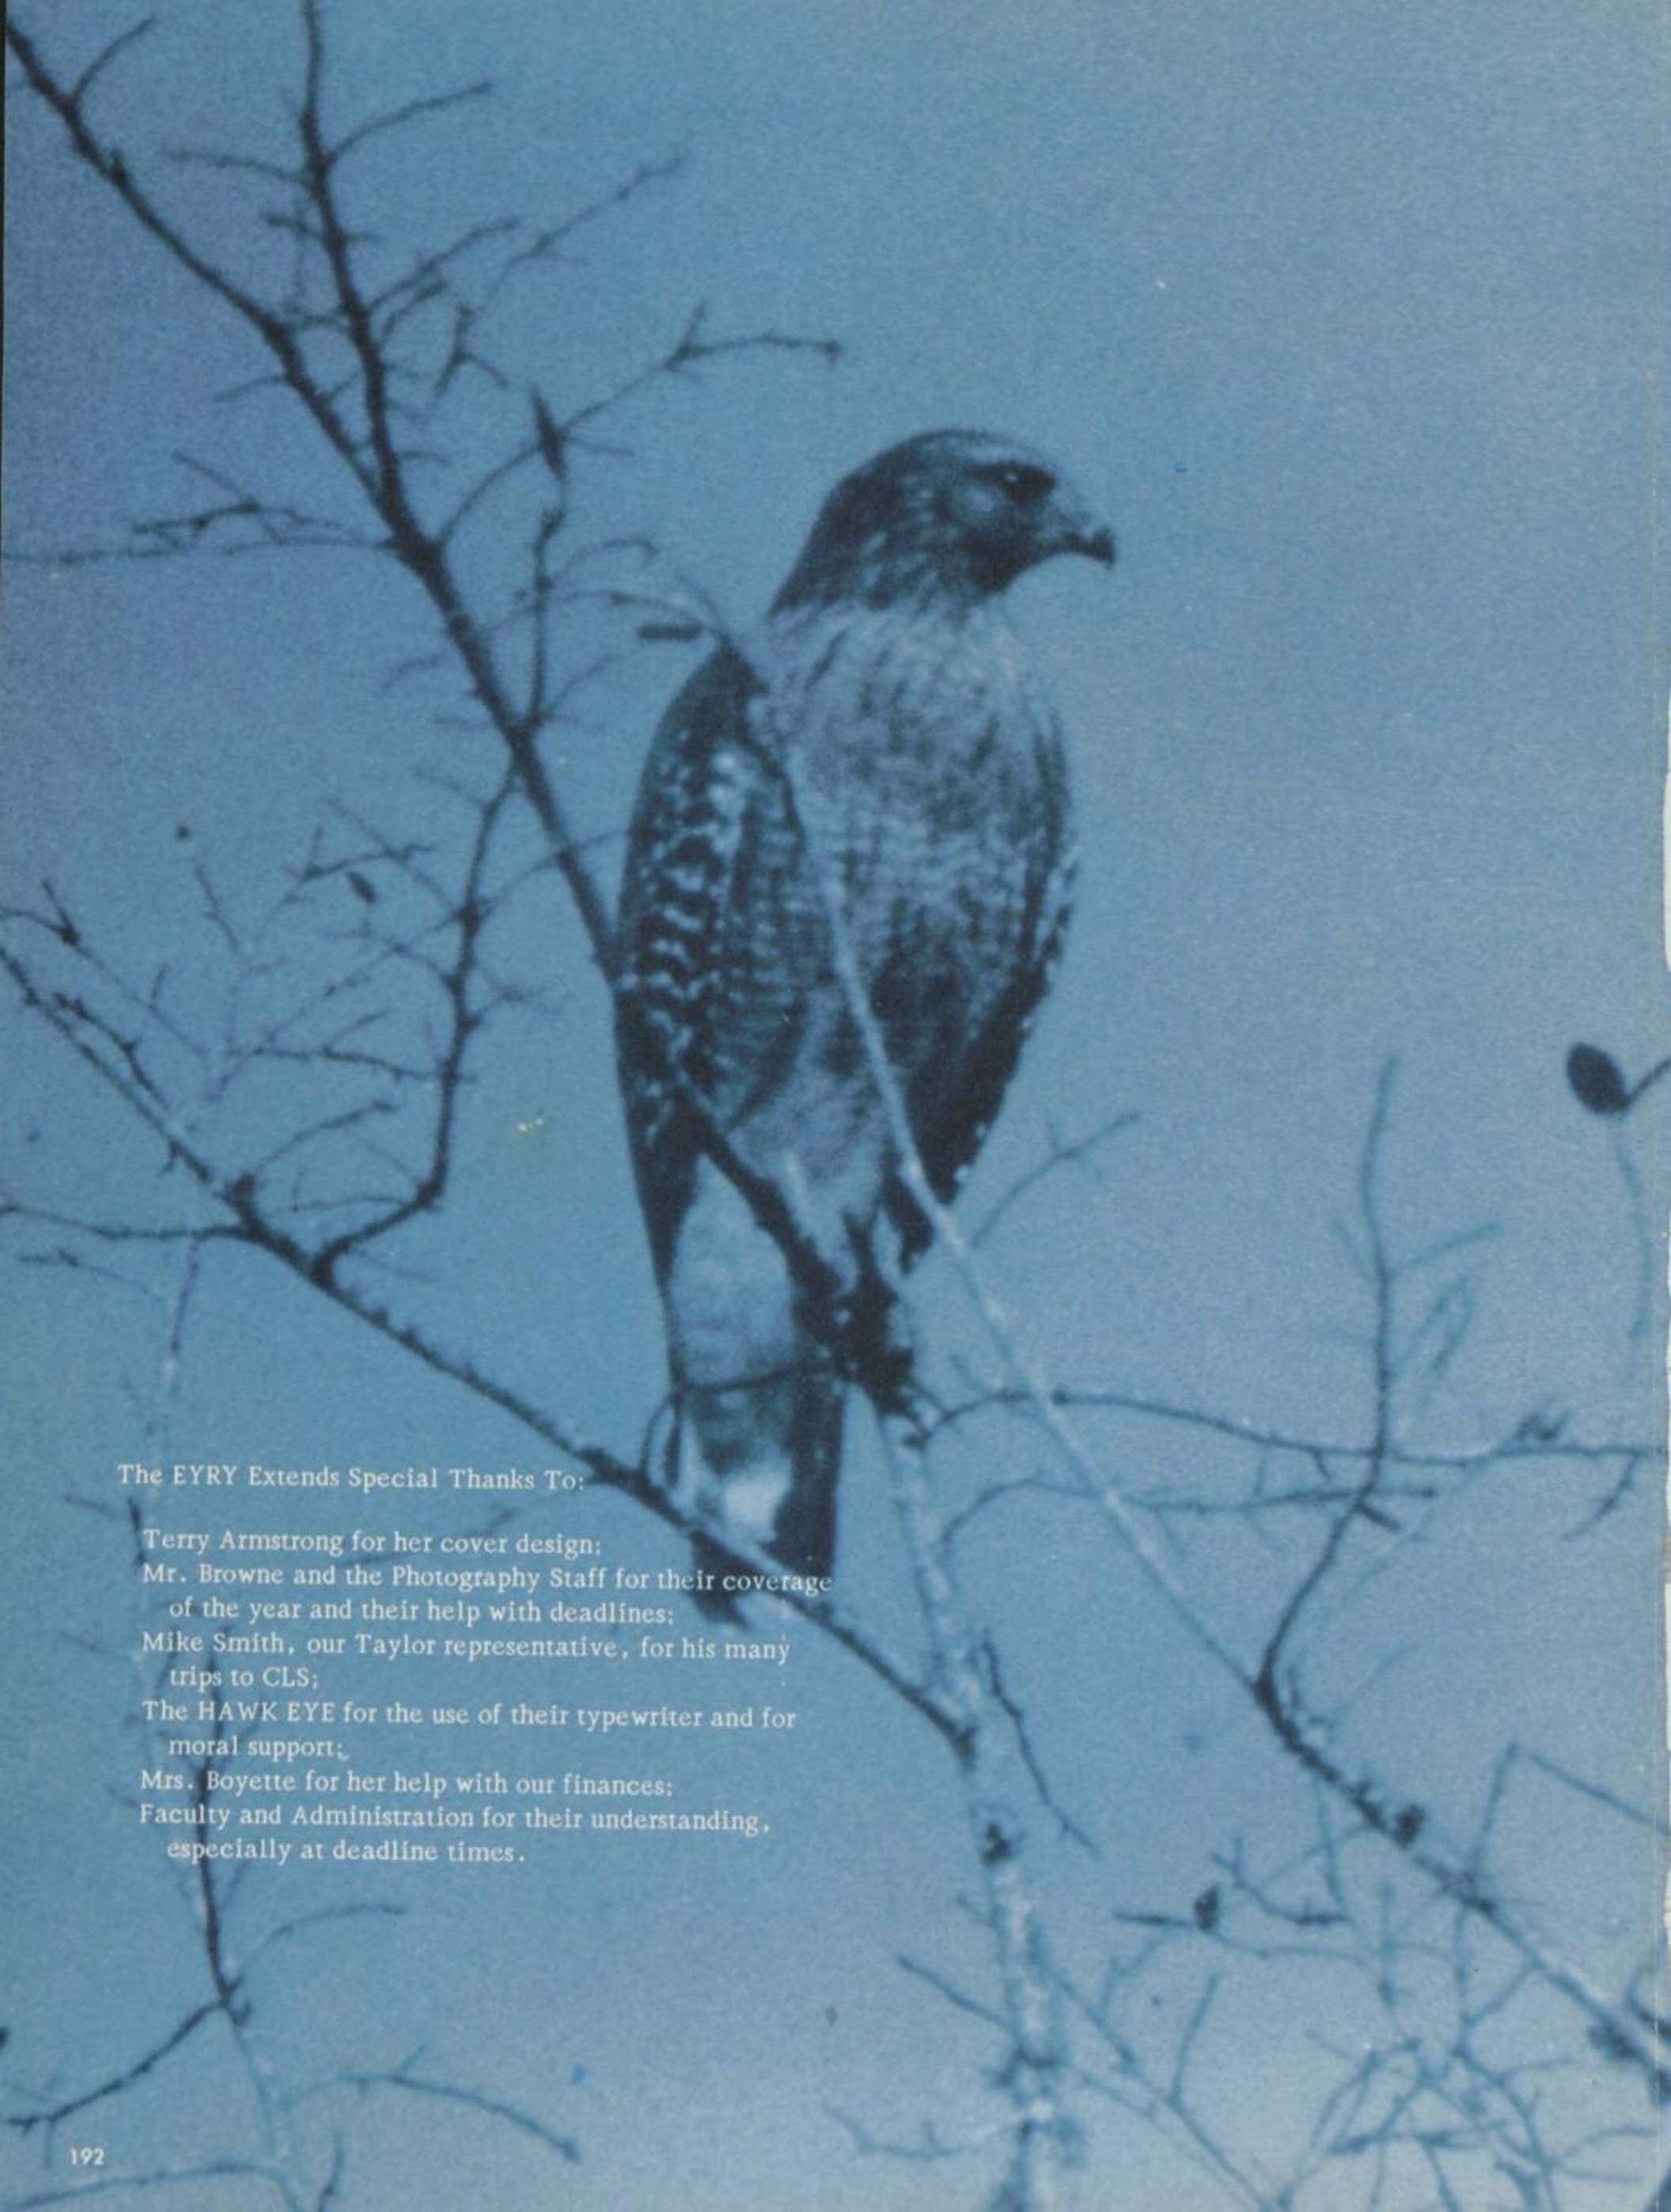
"Two roads diverge in a wood, and I -
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference."



CLASS OF '77

"With all the directions in life,
We are forever faced with decisions."





The EYRY Extends Special Thanks To:

Terry Armstrong for her cover design;
Mr. Browne and the Photography Staff for their coverage of the year and their help with deadlines;
Mike Smith, our Taylor representative, for his many trips to CLS;
The HAWK EYE for the use of their typewriter and for moral support;
Mrs. Boyette for her help with our finances;
Faculty and Administration for their understanding, especially at deadline times.

Faith:
It's been great being with you as the class of '82 and I'll see you out at the club some this year. C.C.C.

Faith,
I hope we don't have to ride this bus next year! This has been a hell of a year putting up with this bus. I know I'll see you this summer. Be careful, + don't you send Michael get into to much trouble.
Have a great summer

Faith
Have a great summer
Hey Faith.
Hope you've had fun this year.
Y'all will not have it so easy next year
Have a summer. Virginia
